Judge Still Pondering Steel Case

Battle Over Truman Seizure Roars On Pending Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The great Constitutional battle over President Truman's three-week-old seizure of the steel industry roared on today — with Truman himself saying he had a right and duty to take over the mills.

The legal question was in the hands of Federal Judge David A Pine in a case brought by the steel industry to force the government to surrender the seized facilities.

Judge Pine, after taking the case under advisement last Friday, kept busy over the week end considering the historic legal arguments. His ruling could come today, but may be delayed until tomorrow or Wednesday.

President Truman, in correspondence released by the White House last night, appeared to take a narrower view of presidential powers than government attorneys did in arguments before Pine.

Says Powers Limited

Truman said executive powers are "limited, of course," by the provisions of the Constitution, particularly those that protect the rights of individuals." He said it was proper that the courts now are examining the legality of the situation, but that:

"I feel sure that the Constitution does not require me to endanger our national safety by letting all the steel mills shut down in this critical time."

Holmes Baldridge, handling government argument to uphold seizure powers, told Judge Pine last Friday that the nation's Chief Executive had unlimited authority under the Constitution and the courts could not interfere.

"The President is accountable only to the country and the decisions of the President are conclusive," Baldridge said.

Rash Of Protests

The government's court argument of unlimited executive powers stirred a rash of week-end protests from Congress.

Rep. Joseph A. Martin of Massachusetts, the House Republican leader, called the GOP policy committee of the House into a late afternoon session to discuss the government seizure position.

"Clearly," said Martin, "a whole alien philosophy of government is being propounded which would scrap all precedents all legal teachings, and 163 years of basic tradition in America.

"Who longer can be secure if the President can surround himself with the unlimited power of a lord high executioner by the mere utterance of the word 'emergency'?"

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said in a week-end radio broadcast that the steel seizure "smacks of the practices that lead toward dictatorship, and I'm against it. If the steel mills can be seized, so can newspapers, labor unions and churches. Absolutely nothing is safe."

President D. A. Huley of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce said today in opening the Chamber's 40th convention that seizure of private businesses are natural outgrowths of "over-swollen democracy."

Break Ground For YMCA

Ground was to be broken at 4 this afternoon for the new Marion YMCA on E. Church St. A brief program was set up for the ceremony.

A. W. Kette, president of the local Y, was to preside for the program. Representative boys, girls, men and women were to take part in turning the first spade-full of earth. They were Larry Henry, representing the Y boys; Judy Schill, a Club Coed officer, representing the girls. The representative for the men and women had not been selected at noon.

The Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig, pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, was to give the invocation and the Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, the benediction.

Stops in Marion on Busy Tour

Kefauver Makes Bid For Independent Vote

By GEORGE SCOTT

Senator Estes Kefauver said "candidates for president should be chosen by the people" and criticized what he called "a peculiar situation" in Ohio politics when he spoke in Marion Saturday afternoon before about 400 persons.

The tall Tennessean, Democratic candidate for President, urged Ohio voters send delegates pledged to him in the national Democratic convention, rather than voting for the slate pledged to the favorite son candidate, ex-Sen. Bulkley. "Bulkley says he is not a bona fide candidate for the nomination for President. By voting for Bulkley you would be transferring your franchise, your right to choose,' de declared.

People Should Choose

He went on to say that he believed the people should pick the candidates. They should not be chosen "by a selected few in a smoke-filled room," he said.

The senator spoke from the rear of a station wagon parked at the west side of the courthouse. He was introduced by Dr. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church. Sen. Kefauver is a Baptist.

Marion was just one stop on Kefauver's busy tour throughout Ohio before the May 6 primary. From here he stopped in Gallon, Mansfield, and Ashland before winding up the day in Akron.

He mentioned that this was not his first trip to Marion. He said he was here to speak at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in 1945.

His schedule called for only a five-minute talk, but he spoke for closer to 15 minutes. Trucks rolling by made the senator a little hard to hear at times.

Need More Democracy

"The people must have the say on who is running for president or this country will not have full democracy," he said after his opening remarks. "We need more democracy and not less." He said the people can do a good job if they have the facts.

"I believe in making my calls to the people, And I believe every other candidate should do the same," he said.

Referring to the international situation, he said, "We can have peace if we work hard enough at it.' He said he believes in supporting the United Nations.

He spoke of President Harding when he took up corruption in government, "A great man went out from Marion and was elected president. And that man became a victim of greed, corruption, and people bent on their own selfish

Marion Man Heads Ohio Navy Club

Elected at State Convention Here Over Week End

State officers of the Navy Club and Navy Club Auxiliary were elected at an Ohio convention of the organizations in Marion over the week end.

John T. Coleman of 432 Park St. was elected the new commandant of the Ohio Squadron and Mrs. Ida Andrews of Akron was named commandant of the Squadron auxiliary.

The Marion Navy Club and Auxiliary were hosts for the Ohio Squadron conventions. Sessions were held at the Marion Navy Clubrooms, at Hotel Harding and at the Officers Club of the Marion Engineer Depot. Both past and present state and national officers of the club were in attendance.

Coleman, a past commandant of the Marion Club, succeeds Ralph Miller of Youngstown.

Elected to serve with him were Berl Sheely of Lima, senior executive officer; Frank Bartling Jr. of Springfield, junior executive officer; Franklin McClaskey of Marion, paymaster; James Jeswald of Youngstown, historian; Robert J. Vaughan of Marion chaplain; Thomas Gallagher of Lima, medical officer; Morris Goldman of Struthers, judge advocate; Earl Farragher of Youngstown, master-at-arms; and Harold Haughn of Marion, shipswriter.

Auxiliary Officers

The Squadron Auxiliary selected the following officials: Mrs. Ida Andrews of Akron, commandant; Mrs. Isabel Coleman of Marion, senior executive officer; Mrs. Lucille Wright of Springfield, junior executive officer; Mrs. Dorothy Arnold of Akron, shipswriter; Mrs. Helen Sekinger of Youngstown, paymaster; Mrs. Eva Siechter of Lima, chaplain; Mrs. Bess Gallagher of Lima, pianist; Mrs. Martha Holcomb of Akron, conductorist; Mrs. Charis Phillips of Springfield, historian; Mrs. Marie Sekinger of Youngstown, master-at-arms; Mrs. Betty Kiser of Lima and Mrs. Gerry Miller of Marion, color bearers.

Freedom Is Restored To Japan

Peace Treaty, Security Pact Now Effective; Occupation Ended

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defeated Japan, stripped of its once great power and empire, regained its independence at 8:30 a.m. (EST) today, ending nearly seven years of Allied occupation.

President Truman immediately hailed the reborn nation as a valiant ally in the struggle against "Communist imperialism and aggression in the Pacific."

Japan's prime minister Shigeru Yoshida declared the Japanese people "can meet the challenge of our times."

Simultaneous with the effective hour of the peace treaty, a security pact between Japan and the United States went into force. This guarantees the continued presence of American troops in the Japanese islands for as long as necessary to protect the presently disarmed and defenseless country against any aggression from Communist Asia.

The peace and security pacts became effective over the steadfast opposition of Soviet Russia.

The treaties were put into operation at a simple ceremony in a state department conference room. Tokyo and Washington had agreed that the hour of final action should be 8:30 a.m.

Secretary of State Acheson, according to a carefully worked out program, presented to the State Department's legal chief, Adrian S. Fisher, a document which President Truman had signed several days ago declaring that the United States had ratified the Japanese peace treaty.

Final Action Taken

Japan and six other countries had previously deposited their ratifications with the State Department and only the American action was necessary to bring the treaty into force.

Acheson also exchanged ratifications with Japan's ranking representative in the United States, Ryuji Takeuchi, making the security treaty effective also.

Takeuchi presented his credentials as first fully accredited Japanese postwar diplomat in the United States. A new American ambassador, Robert D. Murphy, is already enroute to Tokyo.

Acheson read the statement from President Truman and Takeuchi presented the declaration from Yoshida.

Thus a little more than 10 years after Japanese bombs at Pearl Harbor touched off World War II in the Pacific, peace was restored between the two leading enemies of that conflict, America and Japan, and the other nations which have ratified or will ratify the peace treaty.

The ceremony, in fact, marked the end of World War II for the United States, the state of war with Germany having been ended by legislative action last year.

Soviet Oppose Action

The peace thus formally established, however, is only a partial and uneasy peace because Russia has fought it since long before the treaty signing conference at San Francisco last September.

President Truman called the beginning of Japan's independence a "great event," and said the United States had worked for Japan's "restoration as a prosperous and progressive nation."

Flag Flies Again Over Sovereign Japan

Eclipse of "Rising Sun" Over

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO (AP)—Quiet peace fell over the misty Japanese islands tonight.

No incident marred the night that officially ended history's bloodiest war in the Orient.

Japan again became independent at 10:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. EST) —the hour set arbitrarily by the U. S. and Japanese governments to mark the close of six years and eight months of Allied occupation. The peace treaty signed by Japan and 48 other nations became effective at the same time.

There was no dancing in the streets, but peace prayers were offered at Shrines. Japanese peace lanterns swayed in the Ginza, Tokyo's Broadway.

Millions of Japanese flags—the Rising Sun on a white field—fluttered Monday for the first time since the occupation began.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida called it a "magnanimous peace unparalleled in history." He urged his people to "march joyfully, courteously and resolutely on the broad highway of peace and democracy."

Reds Grumble

Political leaders generally followed his lead. But the Communists were dour. They said today was one of "national humiliation . . . a blot on the nation's history that has never been seen before."

There was no official word from Emperor Hirohito nor the empress.

Tomorrow is Hirohito's 51st birthday—a national holiday.

The full celebration of the conclusion of the peace agreement will be held Saturday.

The new American ambassador to Japan, Robert D. Murphy, was scheduled to reach Tokyo from the U. S. at about midnight.

For Japan it was a great day on the diplomatic front.

Nationalist China and India made peace with the 84,000,000 Japanese just as had the United States, the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Pakistan and France.

Red China and Russia technically still were at war with Japan. Neither signed the San Francisco peace treaty nor joined in the Allied peace move that restored Japan to full sovereignty in the family of nations.

The Japanese government is-

Ridgway Is New NATO Commander

Gen. Clark Shifted To Korea; Gruenther Is Ridgway's Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was appointed today to succeed Gen. Eisenhower as Supreme Allied Commander in Europe.

President Truman announced at the same time the appointment of Gen. Mark W. Clark to succeed Ridgway as the U. N. commander in Korea and commander in chief of the U. S. Armed Forces in the Far East.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther will continue as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander in Europe. This is the post he has held under Eisenhower.

Truman said in a statement:

"I have every confidence that generals Ridgway and Gruenther will make an outstanding team for our common defense effort.

Ridgway's appointment and Eisenhower's release as supreme allied commander will become effective approximately June 1.

GEN. RIDGWAY

Could Break Convention Deadlock

Three Men Seen Key To GOP Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two governors and a national committeeman might hold the key to the Republican presidential nomination if a convention deadlock develops between Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The three are governors Earl Warren of California, John S. Fine of Pennsylvania and Michigan's national committeeman, Arthur Summerfield.

All three will be under extreme pressure at Chicago because together they apparently control a majority of a bloc of 166 of the convention's 1,205 delegates. This represents the largest group of delegates publicly uncommitted to either Eisenhower or Taft likely to be chosen for the July convention.

With surveys indicating that neither major candidate now is in a position to win the 603 votes needed for a first ballot nomination, the trio probably could swing the prize either way.

Or, if they chose to act together and early enough, they could form a powerful bloc to start a compromise candidate on his way if a tight deadlock develops.

May Have Small Lead

Unless Eisenhower can make a cleanup in three doubtful states—Massachusetts, Missouri and Texas—Taft seems likely to go into the convention with a small lead in the number of delegates.

Taft has claimed he will arrive at the convention with 650 votes. On the other hand, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Eisenhower's national campaign manager, said "nobody will ever catch up with us" after Tuesday's Massachusetts primary, where 38 delegates will be chosen.

As the situation now stands, after a busy week end of delegate picking, an Associated Press tabulation shows Taft with 266 votes and Eisenhower with 233. Taft

Candidates Meeting Set Tuesday Night

Office-Seekers Will Be Introduced At Edison Junior High

Candidates for nomination in the May 6 primary election will be introduced to the public Tuesday night at a pre-primary meeting in the auditorium of Edison Junior High School. The meeting, sponsored by the Marion League of Women voters and the Marion County Farm Bureau Federation, will start at 7:50 p.m. and is scheduled to adjourn at 10:15.

Most of the 34 candidates for local, state and district offices whose names will appear on the primary ballot are expected to be present. They will be introduced and given an opportunity to speak briefly. Candidates unable to attend the meeting are expected to submit statements.

Music will be furnished by the Harding High School brass sextet under the direction of Homer Huffman. Members of Boy Scout Troop 2 and Explorer Post 2, both sponsored by the Edison PTA, will present the flag, lead the pledge of allegiance, and serve as ushers.

Talks on the topic, "He Whom A Dream Hath Possessed," will be given by two foreign students from Ohio Wesleyan University, Roy Akagi of Japan and Paulis Anstrats of Latvia. They will answer questions from the audience.

George Schertzer, organization director of the Marion County Farm Bureau, will preside for the meeting.

Lima Man Among 9 Ohioans Missing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy today tentatively listed the following Ohio men aboard the destroyer - minesweeper Hobson, which sank Saturday, as missing:

Place Boxes For Flood Relief Fund

Coin boxes for the collection of money to aid flood sufferers have been placed by the Red Cross in banks, building and loan offices, and utility company offices in Marion and Marion County, as well as all city and rural schools.

The boxes are for the convenience of persons who wish to make donations but are unable to take their contributions directly to the Red Cross office. L. H. Larsen, disaster chairman for the Marion County Chapter, said.

To date, $218 has been contributed by Marionites for flood relief. The National Red Cross estimates that $10 million will be needed to meet the needs of victims of the recent Missouri and Mississippi river floods.

Funds from the annual Red Cross fund campaign conducted in March will be insufficient to meet the unprecedented disaster needs now facing the organization, according to E. Roland Harriman, president of the National Red Cross.

Locally, contributions may be taken or sent to the chapter office at 133 W. Center St. Checks should be made out to the American Red Cross.

Red Cross disaster aid is in the form of an outright gift, Larsen said, and emergency relief is provided in the form of food, clothing, shelter and medical aid to disaster victims.

Sinks After Collision In Mid-Atlantic

U.S. Navy Disaster One of Worst; Give Up Hunt for Survivors

WASHINGTON (AP) - The destroyer - minesweeper Hobson was rammed by the aircraft carrier Wasp Saturday night and sank in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean. The Navy said today it has called off the search for 176 seamen listed as missing.

It was one of the worst naval disasters in this nation's history.

The Navy said the air and sea search for survivors was called off at sundown Sunday.

There were no casualties reported on the Wasp. Sixty-one seamen on the 1,600-ton Hobson were listed as rescued.

Capt. B. C. McCaffree of Canova, S. D., commanding officer of the carrier Wasp, radioed Atlantic Fleet headquarters at Norfolk today that the Hobson crossed the Wasp's bow, was struck amidships, broke into two parts and sank within four minutes after the collision.

Both the Wasp and the Hobson had distinguished records in World War II. They were enroute to the Mediterranean as part of a United States task force.

The collision took place 1,200 miles due east of Boston and 700 miles west of the Azores. The Navy said the seas were choppy and the weather murky. It described the conditions as near-stormy.

The ships were taking part in night maneuvers, a normal routine. The collision took place shortly before midnight Saturday, which was around 8:25 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. The first official word of the crash came shortly before noon, EST, on Sunday.

A Navy spokesman said the search was called off because planes and ships in the area of the sinking had "ample time to search the waters."

Records Lost

But the department studiously declined to list the victims as "presumed dead"—only as "tentatively missing."

All the Hobson's records went down with the ship and there was no accurate way of knowing the exact complement of the ship. The department said it believed there were 14 officers and 223 men aboard.

The crash ripped a 75-foot hole in the starboard of the Wasp. The gash was just above the waterline, near the bow. The Wasp is making its way to New York for repairs. It is not expected to reach New York before Friday or Saturday.

Navy Department aides stayed on the job around the clock working on the grim assignment of compiling the list of those reported as missing.

Names were made public as soon as the next of kin was notified. An aide emphasized there might be some errors in its lists.

The mid-ocean crash was probably the most disastrous naval collision since the end of World War II.

Confusion marked early reports of the tragedy, but the Navy believes this is whah happened:

The Hobson and Wasp were part of a task group enroute to the Mediterranean. In all, there were about 23 carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

Night maneuvers were being held enroute—a normal routine.

The Hobson and the U.S.S. Rodman, another destroyer - minesweeper, were trailing the Wasp to help pick up men in the event any of the carrier's planes failed to land on its decks.

The Wasp, probably cutting through rough seas at 20 to 25 knots, turned into the wind to enable planes to land after a simulated night strike against other ships in the group.

The Hobson, traveling at about the same speed, steamed into the path of the carrier.

The Rodman was not involved.

The Navy reported that 61 men

Why Talks In The Steel Wage Dispute Are Stalled

A Report To The American Public

Millions of Americans are asking why negotiations in the steel labor dispute have stalled.

The chief reason is that the union refuses to budge an inch from its demand for the full package of Wage Stabilization Board recommendations.

Under these recommendations the union wants the highest increase in wages and in fringe benefits in the industry's history. And in addition it wants the power to force every man who works in the mills to join the union.

On its part the industry, faced with demands which would lift its cost more than $1 billion annually, wants the Government to grant fair and reasonable price relief to compensate for increased costs. And it opposes the compulsory union shop.

How Prices Stand

It is important to set the record straight on one point. The steel companies have never asked nor "insisted" on a price increase of $12 a ton. They have asked only for fair and equitable treatment on prices, if labor costs advanced.

The figure of $12 a ton would be the ultimate cost to the companies if the inflationary increases recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board become effective. How is that figure reached?

The direct employment costs to the companies of the W.S.B. recommendations would be 30 cents an hour per employee or $6 a ton. There have been five earlier rounds of wage increases and other costly benefits since V. J. Day. In each of them the cost of goods and services the steel companies must buy went up by nearly the same amount as the increase. This time that would add another $6 in costs a ton or $12 in all.

The revenue of the steel industry is simply not adequate to permit it to "absorb" a further cost increase of $6 a ton or more without a compensating price increase.

The companies had hoped to help check inflation by holding the line on both prices and wages. However, the W. S. B. recommendations shattered that hope.

The Price Administrator has said an increase of only about $3 a ton will be allowed. The companies were entitled to this increase under the Capehart Amendment to cover increased costs between the outbreak of fighting in Korea and July 26, 1951, prior to any demands for wage increases. In the interest of stabilization no request for this increase was ever made by the industry.

Some in Washington cite the income of steel companies before taxes as alleged proof that they can absorb more than $1 billion in added costs. But the effect of that absorption would be to reduce their taxes by two thirds of a billion.

The loss in taxes would have to be made up by action of Congress to increase taxes. If not that, then by Government borrowing, or by the printing of new money. This would be inflation pure and simple.

That is why the tax payers and consumers of America will bear a large share of the cost of the W.S.B. inflationary recommendations.

The Union Shop

Another big stumbling block to agreement between the companies and the union is the compulsory union shop endorsed by the W.S.B. Under the union shop, no man, not a member of the union, could work in the mills.

The companies believe it wrong to interfere in any respect with an individual's decision as to whether he will or will not join a union.

The Broader Issues

The controversy has created grave economic and constitutional issues more important by far than the immediate dispute in steel. These will not be settled quickly or easily, but settled they must be because...

If the Government can arbitrarily seize the steel mills, the property of nearly one million citizens, stockholders of the steel companies...

If it can impose an inflationary wage increase...

If it can confiscate private income by setting prices in ruthless disregard of the needs of the industry to meet huge cost increases...

If it can force compulsory unionism on workers...

Then our American heritage of human liberty, the rights of individuals, the right to own property, the freedom to work... even freedom of the press... are gravely imperiled.

This Is Your Fight

This fight does not concern the steel companies alone. It is your fight as well. If you are opposed to the illegal seizure of property by Government for any purpose whatever, your only recourse is in the Congress of the United States.

It is your privilege as an American citizen to express your views to your Congressman and Senators on these subjects.

Faces Army Charges In Diary Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today brought court martial charges against Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow, former military attache in Moscow whose diary was copied by Communist agents in Germany last year.

The Army announcement by Secretary Pace said that Grow had been charged with "improperly recording classified military information in private records and failing properly to safeguard classified military information."

The Army announced this step, Pace said, after investigations here and abroad.

Grow had written in the diary that he thought war with Russia was imminent.

Removal of Whitewash

Q. The walls of my basement are covered with whitewash and now I want to remove it in orde: to paint the walls with a waterproof paint.

A. Brush off the thickest part of the whitewash with a stiff wire brush. Then soak down the walls with clear water. The remainder of the coating can then be scrubbed off with a hot solution of washing soda, using about a pound to the gallon of water. Rinse thoroughly with clear water.

Dusty Cement Floor

Q: Some time ago you wrote about using water glass to prevent dust from rising off the surface of a concrete cellar floor. Should it be applied directly?

A: Water glass should be used in the proportions of one part of the chemical in four parts of water. The floor must be given a thorough soaking, and, after an hour or so, all puddles should be swept over the rest of the floor area. After a couple of days for drying, a second application is made. Generally, floors treated in this way cannot be satisfactorily painted, because water glass creates a dense nonabsorbent surface.

Drafty Staircase

Q. We have a closed staircase which formed a pocket of cold air at the bottom near the door. Recently, we had a cold air register installed at the bottom of the stairs, leaving about a three inch space between the register and the door. This has not solved our problem and wonder if space near the door is too small and if register should have been installed a few steps higher.

A. I doubt if there will be much improvement in the change. Relief might be obtainable if the temperature of the rooms on the upper floor was increased so that there wouldn't be as much cold air flowing down the stairs. Weatherstripping the door leading to the attic will also help.

Damp And Musty House

Q. We bought a year-round home in the country and find it is damp and smells musty. Since I have arthritis, it is very bad for me. Is there anything that would eliminate this? My son-in-law told us to cover the ground with sand and the others have told us that it would not do any good. Could you help us out?

A. If there is no basement under the house, much of the dampness comes from the ground below. You should be able to minimize this moisture by painting the underside of the floor, as well as the joists, with an asphalt roof coating. Two coats may be necessary to do a thorough covering job. It would also be advisable to place a moistureproof blanket or batt type of insulation between the floor and joists and then cover the joist spaces with an asphalt roofing felt. If there is a basement and there is no concrete floor, this could contribute to the dampness in the house. The basement should be perfectly dry. Of course, it may also be possible that the ground moisture of the morning dew and possibly mist contribute to the uncomfortable feeling of the ailment, in which case it might be advisable to move back to the city. I do not think that covering the ground with sand would help to any extent.

Cracks In Floor

Q. I have a new concrete floor in the cellar that is about a year old. Cracks measuring about 1/64 of an inch wide have developed. They are approximately five to eight feet long. Can you advise any way of filling such cracks by using rubber base paint or concrete filler?

A. Such cracks are primarily surface cracks, having little or no thickness, and could be eliminated by rubbing down with an abrasive stone or sandpaper. If you intend painting the floor, give the cracks a thin coat of paint and, after it is dry, coat the floor in the usual manner.

Q. Could you give me a reason why our oil burner occasionally shuts off, thus leaving us without heat? I have had the furnace dealers here several times and they can give me no satisfactory reason why this should happen.

A. There are many reasons why this may occur. Frequently corrosion of contact points on the various controls connected with the burner will shut it off, and then again the condition may be caused by a low water cut-off, if the boiler water has dropped to a dangerous level. I suggest that you call in a service man specializing in thermostats and oil burner controls for a thorough checkup of the equipment. If you cannot find the names of such firms write to the manufacturer of this equipment and ask him for the name of a servicing organization who would do this type of work.

TimeEstate Automatic Control will turn your oven on and shut it off to give you complete "absentee cooking."

And new flavors . . . new menu variety! There's a subtly different "goodness" to steaks, chops, sandwiches done on the Converto-Grid . . . a new juicy tenderness to hams, roasts and chickens cooked in the radiant charcoal-type heat of the Bar-B-Kewer Meat Oven . . . a tempting lightness to pies, cakes, biscuits and rolls baked in the giant Balanced Heat oven.

Solves Your No. 1 Big-meal Problem of "Getting Everything Ready at Once"

IT GRILLS! A special reservoir in the Converto-Grid drains off fats and greases to give you true, greaseless grilling, so much better than frying. Converts to super-giant fifth unit. Flush-to-top cover restores your precious center work space.

IT BAKES! The Estate exclusive "Balanced Heat" design eliminates hot spots and cold corners . . . heats uniformly, front-to-back, wall-to-wall, even when crowded. You can bake pies, cakes, biscuits, a casserole all at once, while your roast cooks in the Bar-B-Kewer.

IT BARBECUES! The Bar-B-Kewer meat oven cooks with radiant heat, gives new "charcoal-broiled" flavor. Preserves all the natural juices . . . reduces meat shrinkage. Large enough to accommodate a whole ham, standing rib roast or chicken. Also doubles as a high broiler.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The Trouble I've Seen

"WELL," SAID one man in the group, "it went off."

He was speaking about the atom bomb which had, indeed, gone off. It looked like a small sun in eclipse. Very odd, vary disappointing. The picture had been breaking up—tearing, as they say in television—ever since the broadcast started at noon (EST).

"Owing to technical difficulties," said somebody, "we are having difficulties bringing you the picture."

This was understatement. Even when the picture arrived—which was a sometime thing—it was the dullest possible picture. We had been led to expect Frenchman's Flat. "I can see," murmured somebody, "why they call it flat. But why Frenchman? What's French about it?" Well, it wasn't Frenchman's Flat. It was Yucca Flat. "Why Yucca Flat?" somebody asked defiantly. Right away we got an answer from the machine. "Yucca trees." They showed a few Yucca trees, easily the least thrilling experience of my life.

THERE WAS a babble of sound, the dullest possible sound. "Signals are sent out by switches manually," declared a man who sounded as if he were an expert reading from a paper to a small group of fellow experts. "They are tested electronically by various instruments and are furthermore mounded by earth." I have no idea what the sentence means but it has an authoritative sound. It sounds like experts talking doubletalk and hating the rest of us.

"Owing to technical difficulties," came booming out again. "Ladies and gentlemen, please stand by for the telecast of an atomic bomb explosion," said the invisible man. The phrase "ladies and gentlemen" seemed anemic, inadequate. "At a time like this," I said to myself, "you should say 'men and women.' And you shouldn't say 'stand by.' Come to think of it, we've all been standing by for the sound of an atomic explosion since Hiroshima."

We were viewing the thing—in those brief intervals when the scene came through at all—from forty miles away. There is probably nothing duller than Yucca Flat from even two inches away. From forty miles Yucca Flat reaches a pinnacle of dullness which has to be seen to be believed. The announcer spoke briefly but hopelessy about the size of the surrounding mountains, a brace of statistics which didn't exactly tear me screaming from my chair.

"THIS WILL BE a visual drop. The target is a 700-foot affair. Black and white stripes. So the bombardier will have a perfect target." This made me feel very nice. "Black and white stripes. They'll never hit me. I'm sort of pink and white stripes—I blend in with Yucca Flat. They'll never hit me with an atom bomb in my lifetime."

"We have all been given black glasses because the original flash is so bright. The first flash would definitely injure the eyes."

The picture broke up again. A man was reassuring me that I would not go blind looking at television's atomic bomb. "That will certainly brighten up your screen. But there is no danger of radiation blindness."

"Thirty seconds," said somebody. "Ten, fifteen, twenty . . ."

There was nothing on the screen except a sign—You and The Atom." Even Yucca Flat, that endless nothing, had disappeared. "Oh, no!" said somebody. "All the money they spent! No picture!"

BUT THERE WAS a picture. Ten seconds before the bomb went off, the picture—a shaky streaky picture—came back. There was good old Yucca Flat, miles of just nothing (which is the sort of a scenery we're all headed for in this atomic age). The bomb went off—a small bright sun which seemed terribly ineffectual, at least from forty miles away. It awed the announcers, who said exactly nothing.

"The orange and black cloud—a beautiful, angry spectacle in this wasted desert." It looked like a cloud, nothing more. It stood there, unchanging in the still air, looking like all the still pictures you ever saw of that famous mushroom. The cameras kept ogling it for half an hour, this anticlimactic cloud.

They brought on the Director of Civil Defense, Millard Caldwell. "We know they (Russia) have exploded at least three. We know they have the bombers to bring them here. We know they'll get through our defenses."

It was a real cheerful program.

THE "BIG MUDDY" WAS HERE. With the recession of the Missouri River flood waters comes the evidence of the stark destruction of a flood. This washed-out section of U. S. Highway 36 is located just a few miles west of Elwood, Kas. The flood has caused millions of dollars in damage to property, highways, and eroded farm lands. Telephone linemen can be seen working on the phone lines in the section to restore service interrupted by the flood.

Green Camp Band Has New Uniforms

The Green Camp All Grades band presented their first concert Friday at Township Hall in Green Camp. The band wore their new uniforms for the first time.

The concert was presented to a packed hall. Besides numbers by the band, selections were also presented by the girls' chorus, a mixed chorus and a brass sextett.

The one and one half hour concert started at 7:30 p.m. The uniform consist of white trousers and shirts, and blue and gold packets.

Win in First "Star Search"

A drummer, pianist and vocalist took the first three places, respectively, in the first of four contests being held at the New Ohio Theater as a part of radio station WLW's second "Star Search."

These three and three others from each of two more contests will be eligible for the local finals here on May 15.

Three winners in the contest Thursday night on the stage of the theater were Don Bolin of Marion, drummer, first place, George "Junior" Floyd, boogie woogie pianist, second place, and Miss Mary Jo Barber, vocalist, third place.

In the Service

Pfc. William H. Winters, Marion Marine, has been assigned to Co. B, 3rd Engineer Battalion, at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., U. S. Marine Corps base, after a 30-day leave at home. A son of the late Howard (Mose) Winters of Marion, he is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Orr of 297 Madison Ave. where he has made his home. Before entering service, he was employed as a lineman for the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. He received his boot training at Parris Island, S.C.

* * *

Pfc. John Trimble of Crestline, with the U.S. Army at Fort Richardson, Anchorage, Alaska, spent a 30-day furlough at the home of his mother, Mrs. S. F. Trimble of Crestline, and returned Friday to report in Alaska.

Man Held In Auto Theft

A Cleveland man is being held for investigation in the theft of a new auto belonging to Robert Beringer of 231½ Pearl St.

Albert Lauerhoff, 39, of Cleveland was apprehended by patrolmen from the Bay Bridge patrol post near Sandusky at 9:35 p.m. Sunday. He was driving the car reported stolen here at 7:15 p.m. Sunday from in front of the Beringer home.

Marion city police reported the theft to the state patrol headquarters at Findlay and an all-state dispatch was radioed.

A patrolman in a cruiser had just been alerted to be on the lookout for the stolen auto when Lauerhoff drove past him in it. Lauerhoff is being held at the Bay Bridge patrol post.

$13 in Goods Taken From Theater

Merchandise valued at $13 was taken from a storeroom at the North Drive-In Theater sometime between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday, Deputy Sheriff Elmer Ullom reported.

The loot included five cartons of cigarets, six pounds of marshmallows and 19 boxes of Cracker Jacks. Entry to the storeroom was gained by knocking the panel out of a rear door and unlocking the door.

The breakin was reported by Everett Milligan, manager of the theater refreshment stand.

White House Disaster

IT FINALLY is becoming apparent that the steel issue has done for constitutional law what a series of unforeseen events have done for statutory law.

It has revealed a weakness in the definition of presidential powers which could have been taken advantage of at any previous instant in U.S. history. Harry Truman happened to be the executive in office at the instant when the weakness became a menace to constitutional liberty.

As far as that is concerned, most of the oversights which eventually were repaired in statutory law could have been repaired before they were. For example, it was only by accident that a disastrous school fire in Collinwood, O., revealed that law should require the doors of all public buildings to open outward.

Whether it is to be done immediately, or whether it is put off until next year, Congress must repair the damage done by the disaster in the White House. Either the Constitution must be amended to make it clear for all time that the President of the United States is not superior to it, or that intent must be stated in statutory law and upheld by the Supreme Court.

The most shocking event in government since Franklin D. Roosevelt tried to pack the Supreme Court was the argument by the Department of Justice last week that the President of the United States has unlimited authority to do anything he pleases.

The Boys With the Spoons

AS A TOPIC of parlor discussion, the presidential availability of wealthy W. Averell Harriman is the biggest thing since Henry Wallace was taken up by the same crowd—Americans for Democratic Action. The boys born with valuable spoons in their mouths are endlessly interesting.

Wallace was born with a silver spoon, whereas Harriman's was solid gold, but the principle is the same. The parlor discussion of Harriman centers on what causes men like him—and Wallace—to gravitate to the left in politics.

It is the same phenomenon which has loaded the British labor party with so many men and women who never did a day's work in their lives. The obvious psychological explanation is that such persons cherish the esteem of those who otherwise would be hostile to them because of economic differences.

Other explanations suggest themselves. One, that the most recent converts are always the most zealous evangelists. Two, that those who feel themselves to be on the defensive are the most patronizing. Three, that those who know the least about what they are doing are the most confident. The situation of the boys with the spoons who suddenly begin to patronize people who just work for a living is not unlike that of the new rich, who don't know when to stop.

Americans for Democratic Action, guardian of the original New Deal, thinks it has found a real comer in Mr. Harriman, whose distribution of public money has marked his as New Dealer.

Delegates Before Hatching

SEN. TAFT has pointed out with proper cause that he mistrusts Thomas E. Dewey's estimate of Taft strength in the New York delegation to the Republican convention next July. Not only is Dewey interested in giving Gen. Eisenhower the best of it but Dewey could not possibly know what he is talking about.

This is a good time to remember that counting delegates before the showdown vote in a party convention is riskier than counting chickens before they're hatched.

Four years ago the front-runner in the race to claim the most delegates was Harold Stassen. He had been setting the prairies afire. Sen. Taft apparently had no delegate strength worth counting, and Gov. Dewey was trying to build a backfire against the Stassen blaze. Stassen was the big man.

But when the delegates got down to voting, Stassen was extinguished on the first vote. Taft, who had not claimed anything, received 224 votes, and the Dewey people, though they had claimed only 324, lined up 434.

At this time, Taft is out in front on paper, with more than 233—according to his claim. Eisenhower's friends claim they have at least 209 in their pockets. Stassen has whatever number will go through the options of voting for him until a break comes, perhaps before the first ballot has been finished. There can be no such thing as an absolute estimate of how many delegates any political candidate has until they're hatched out by the heat of a national convention.

Did You Know

The National Geographic Society-Palomar Observatory sky survey reports that its past winter's work was the most successful in three years.

* * *

A donation to help repair and maintain a 13th Century English church, one of the oldest in England, has been made by a New York minister. The Rev. R. C. Hunsicker, vicar of St. Paul's Chapel here, sent a $200 check to the rector of Iffley Church, Oxfordshire, England. The New York clergyman said he was impressed with the antiquity and magnificence of the church he saw on a visit last summer.

Sen. Kefauver

By Raymond Moley

It's Time This Candidate Is Taken Seriously

THE SUCCESS of Estes Kefauver in picking up loose votes in primaries where no one or almost no one is running should be a matter of grave concern to conservative or even middle-of-the-road Democrats. Unless they bestir themselves, they may find the Democratic senator coming to the convention with enough support to be a very serious threat, for he is a younger, more personable, and probably more radical Truman—or to put it another way, he is a less academic but equally radical Wallace.

If elected, Kefauver would probably banish the tainted heavy-handed gentry that moved into the Truman Administration for purposes of low, mundane profit. But he would undoubtedly keep and cherish that other, more numerous, more astute, and vastly more dangerous species composed of planners, welfare staters, one-worlders, and bleeding hearts who have been inherited by Truman from Roosevelt and who have proliferated ever since.

UNDOUBTEDLY, IF he became President a whole swarm of people of like mind, who have been ousted by Truman since the Wallace days, would also return. These statistics are quite distinct from the gangster element that feeds upon the slot machine and other gambling and grafting enterprises. They hold themselves high above such coarse, illicit stuff. They would not steal your nickels, but they would in the future as in the past steal something vastly more important. They would steal your liberty and impair the constitutional fabric of the nation. That is the real Kefauver threat.

It should be understood that the group which is probably praying for Kefauver is very articulate. It has all sorts of publicity outlets, ties with radical newspaper people, links with the left wing of the labor movement, and plenty of free lance "liberal" writers. Deluded people who call themselves "liberal" write admiring stories about the fresh, new spirit of Kefauver.

NOW THAT WALLACE seems to be permanently retired to private life, Kefauver will inherit the piebald lot that formed the 1948 Progressive Party. Now that these people see a chance to capture the big spot on the ticket or at least to have their candidate in second place behind some superannuated candidate, they are anxious in their anticipation.

This threat comes because Kefauver realized the immense value of crime as a source of publicity. His peregrinations as head of the crime committee offered him a wonderful chance to make himself known to the nation. Contrary to every sound principle of Anglo-Saxon judicial procedure, he used television to expose his wretched witnesses and to reveal himself as the white knight of reform. The amiable but somewhat scrambled statesman, Senator Tobey, tottered along as the Sancho Panza to the Tennessee Don Quixote. And Rudolph Halley planted a couple of vote seeds which he will harvest as the Liberal candidate for mayor of New York.

What is needed now is a serious look at the Kefauver record. What did he vote for as a congressman and as a senator? What did he say? What outfits did he sponsor or join? Where did he stand on the great decisive issues of the 1940s?

This candidate must be taken seriously. He should not be allowed to win by default.

What's Ba-a-ad About It?

By TRUMAN TWILL

By way of winding up a saga of life in RFD that began last November, this is to report that the lambing season at the Twillery has come to a bouncing, bleating conclution.

The rate of increase hit 140 per cent this year, which we have been given to understand is as high as a sheepman ever expects to get. There was only one casualty, a prematurely born lambkin whose distressed mother should not have been having lambs in the first place because she was technically a lamb herself.

Going back to that word "sheepman," we would like to say a few words in behalf of a much-abused class of husbandrymen.

In general, city hicks who buy property in RFD to take a crack at natural living favor cattle culture. This is because many of them have made the purchase with a view to building up an equity in country real estate with tax-deductible money. There is no faster way to feed de-ducts than cattle.

At the other end of the economic scale, refugees from the paralyzing frustrations of urban routine take up chicken culture. This is the easiest and quickest basis on which to set up shop, because it requires a minimum outlay to begin with.

Others turn to the pig, and they can have him. Some try turkeys, some ducks, a few of the better-insulated characters go for horses, and some get into such oddities as pheasants.

Sheep constitute a middle course. They are a safe bet. They cost little to begin with, require minimum care, do not eat their owners into an early deficit and, as pointed out previously, can be counted on to more than double their numbers in a lucky year.

In addition, they can be kept feasibly in widely variable numbers—anywhere from two to a couple of hundred, depending on the amount of marginal grazing land available. And contrary to the canard foisted on posterity by the rampaging cattlemen of the west in the free-grazing days, they do not spoil the land for anything but cattle. They are man's prime asset in the one-sided fight to conserve the soil, because they will improve bad land if given a fighting chance. Besides, there is the wool crop, even though it's being hurt grievously by a foreign-trade-happy government and the synthetic-fabric industry.

Here is an avocational sheepman fed up with slurs and lies circulated by other city hicks who have turned to cattle culture, pig culture and poultry culture to relieve their inhibitions about natural living.

They can have their herds of lowing kine, their grunting pigs and their cacking fowl. And if they are gentlemen, as they like to think they are, they will look kindly upon our little flock of woolies, forgetting the ancient feuds of the plains.

We claim one thing few of them can claim after setting up rural projects. We never have filed a tax deduction on account of loss and have no hope of listing a taxable surplus. We are breaking even. And when they can point to a 140 per cent increase, except for poultry we'll be glad to congratulate them, as we now have a right to expect to be congratulated. No cigars, please. Just bales of hay.

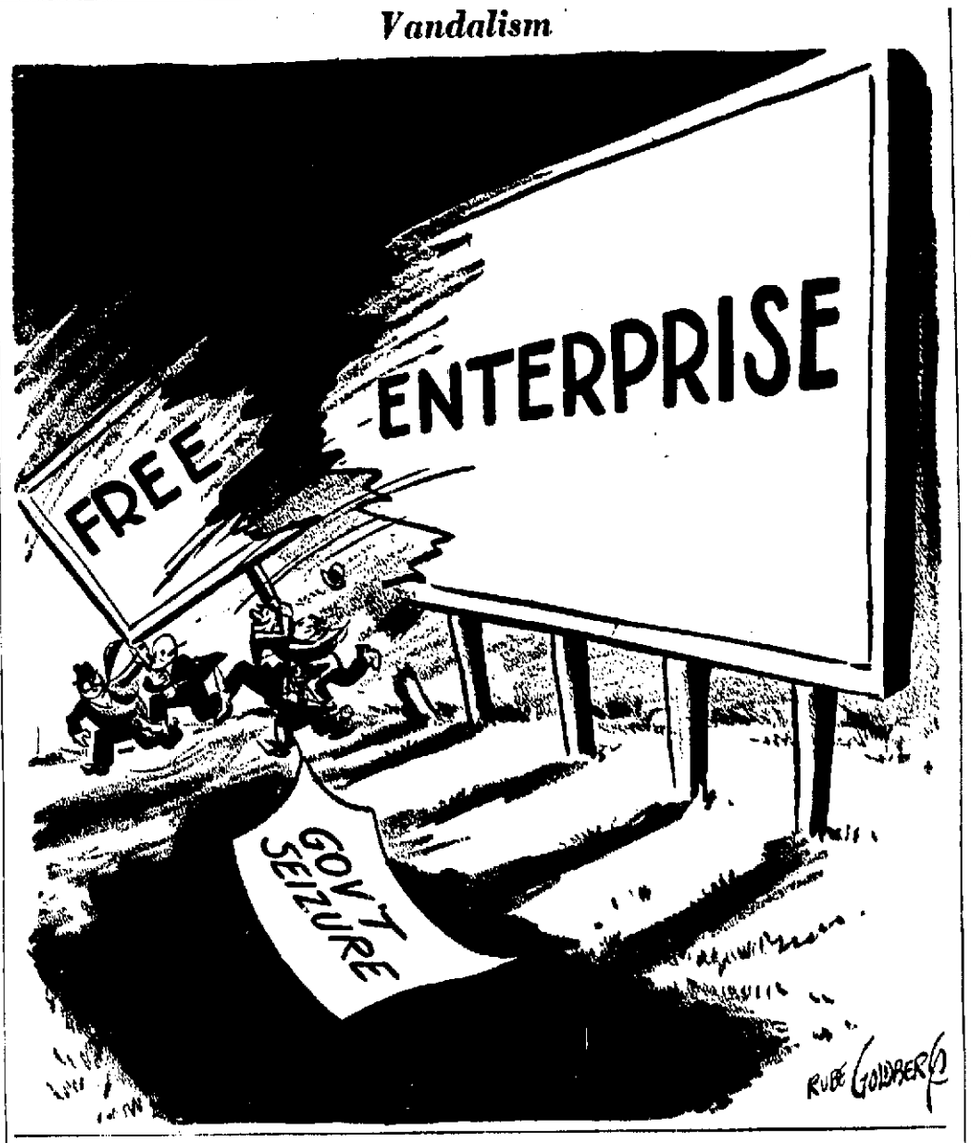
Vandalism



Campaign by Silence

By George E. Sokolsky

DURING THE RECENT meetings of editors and publishers in New York, the matter of questionnaires addressed to General Eisenhower loomed large, with forcible expressions on the subject. Some thought that he should answer questions; others that he should not.

Whether the questions are well worded or not, whether they are loaded or not is of little interest, because no matter what is asked, a man who knows what he thinks can answer as he chooses. Questionnaires are being composed by nearly everybody who owns a pencil.

Furthermore, all the arguments about General Eisenhower being in uniform are strictly eye-wash, because he has been a candidate in uniform, whether he answers questionnaires or not; he has received delegations of American businessmen and politicians at his headquarters in Paris; he has commented, reservedly, it is true, on his victories in the primaries. He has received Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and Paul G. Hoffman, whose meetings were strictly political and were so reported.

IN A WORD, General Eisenhower has been political for many months, despite the uniform, in all phases of a pre-convention campaign, except in that phase which has dealt with an expression of opinion. There, of course, his embarrassment is great, because as a Republican he must be opposed to the President, but as a general, he is the President's subordinate. This paradoxical position surely cannot be prolonged after June 1 when he ceases to be the head of NATO.

It should never have been permitted. It would seem that a due sense of propriety should have impelled General Eisenhower to have resigned as soon as he authorized that his name be entered in any primary. The choice was his whether he would continue as an active general or become a politician, if there is a conflict, which is doubtful, because many of our top generals have been playing politics for years. General Eisenhower's choice to be both simultaneously is the cause for the questionnaires, particularly the "Knoxville (Tennessee) 21 Questions" which have received so much attention.

THESE QUESTIONS were issued before they were answered, which some have criticized as discourteous; however, the questions themselves are important because they are so complete. They could be an outline for the platforms of both parties.

It is possible that the campaign by silence, which the Eisenhower strategists have decided upon, will not interfere with his getting the nomination. However, sooner or later, any candidate must speak his mind or be regarded as one who has no mind. What many Republicans fear is that, even if nominated, Eisenhower will suffer during the election campaign from a lack of clarification of his position. This could lead to a Democratic victory. It is to be assumed that Eisenhower would, if nominated, speak his mind during the campaign, but the suggestion that he will not resign until nominated causes some to wonder whether he will not say that he will continue in uniform until elected.

The danger in this silence is greater to the country than to a political party. Under the American theory, no man is too important to seek the office of President of the United States. No man, whatever his accomplishments, lessens his stature by admitting that he is devoting himself to a campaign for his selection. Our leading men are not Chinese mandarins who publicly reject office while privately they labor to obtain it. Greater men than Dwight D. Eisenhower have campaigned for themselves for the Presidency.

Therefore, there can be no humiliation in his telling the citizens what he thinks. To do it by proxy is worse, however, than not to do it at all. The answers remain the proxy's views until they are accredited by the principal.

Many who ardently support General Eisenhower take the same view as his opponents on this subject. I have heard it said by some of General Eisenhower's supporters that they fear that the strategy of silence is particularly harmful, as affecting those who are on the fence, those who like Eisenhower and would support him but who wonder what Eisenhower likes.

My discussions with publishers and editors force upon me the conclusion that the campaign by silence reduces the political and intellectual stature of the general. If it is continued after June 1, it will be increasingly damaging to him.

No candidate for President can afford to be too proud to talk.

Franco's Opportunity

By PHIL NEWSOM

Spain is seeking again to become a power in world politics.

After more than a decade of isolation, two recent moves by Gen. Franco are of special interest. Both lead to the conclusion that Franco hopes, if not to become the champion of the Arab nations at least to become the arbiter between the Arabs and the Western Powers.

The first came early this month when Spain demanded the return of police control of the Tangier international zone.

The second was the dispatch of Franco's foreign minister, Albert Martin Artajo, on a tour of Middle-East capitals.

Proof that Artajo's trip was no mere series of courtesy calls was seen in the fact that his party included a full complement of political and economic advisers, thus reassuring discussion of a full range of subjects.

Two events undoubtedly have given Franco encouragement.

One is that his government finally has been recognized by the United States and that he soon is to be brought into the Western defense setup. Thus it may be argued that by exploiting Spain's blood and cultural ties with the Arab nations, he increases both his value to the West and to his bargaining powers.

The other has been the spreading wave of nationalism from North Africa to the Arabian peninsula, particularly as exemplified by the outbreaks against the French in Tunisia.

The French, particularly, do not regard the Spanish moves with a friendly eye.

The French and Spanish between them control the nominally independent monarchy of Morocco.

Any move by the Spanish to grant increased autonomy in their area is bound to have repercussions on the French. However, the Spanish protectorate is less well developed than the French and it has a population of only a little more than 1,000,000 as opposed to more than 8,000,000 in the French zone.

Therefore the French say they have a great deal more to lose than the Spanish, particularly in view of the fact that also affected would be Tunisia and Algeria.

The French were not pleased by a Spanish warning against the use of repressive measures to hold down the Arab nationalists, and they blamed the Spanish in part for the March 30 anti-French riots in the Tangier international zone.

They believed the Spanish could have done more to prevent nationalist agitators from French Morocco from crossing the Spanish zone to Tangier.

The Arabs themselves have been quick to take advantage of the opening they have been given.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Saturday, Dec. 1, 1877, was a day of great excitement for residents of the New Bloomington community. It was on that day that a man named Burnison, an engineer on the Chicago, Cincinnati, Columbus and Indianapolis Railroad, while out hunting, came across a leopard in the woods about two miles from the village. He hastened back to New Bloomington for assistance and was soon joined by Ed Kessler and Samuel Johnson. Kessler fired on the animal first but did not wound it. John then fired, with but little better effect. The beast then attacked Johnson, striking him down and tearing the side of his face and neck. Kessler then struck the animal across the back with his gun, crippling it and breaking the stock of his gun. He seized the barrel, and with a man named Moore, who was armed with an axe, pounded it on the head. After a desperate fight the animal was killed. Later the dead leopard was brought to Marion and exhibited in the city hall at 10 cents a head. Hundreds went to see the beast which measured seven feet in length and weighed 126 pounds.

TV To Go Underwater

NEW YORK (AP)—Life underwater will be recorded by the TV camera, the British Information Service reports.

The research ship, Calanus, belonging to the Scottish Marine Biological Association, is being equipped with a built-in television camera powerful enough to distinguish the characteristic zoological features of a codfish at 16 feet in cloudy water.

The camera will also look at experimental fish breeding grounds and the workings of crabs and ephausid shrimp.

Protests Stand-in for Ike

Women Voters "Unfair," Taft Says On Forum Issue

CINCINNATI (AP)—The League of Women Voters stood firm today on its decision to allow a "stand-in" for General Dwight D. Eisenhower to speak on its radio-television forum for presidential candidates.

The league insisted, however, that Senator Robert A. Taft—and every other candidate—appear on the forum personally or remain unrepresented. Taft told a reporter he could not see the fairness of this.

The forum, to be televised Thursday evening (ABC), is the highlight of the league's 20th biennial convention, opening today. The league is a non-partisan organization devoted to stimulating interest in public affairs.

Of all the candidates, only Taft and Senator Russell (D-Ga), have said they could not appear on the forum.

A league spokesman said an exception was made in Eisenhower's case because he still is in Europe.

Reminded by a reporter of the league's reason for permitting ex-ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman to speak for the general, Taft snapped:

"He (Eisenhower) could fly here just as well as not.

"I notified the league in March that I had previous committments and offered to send John D. M. Hamilton (Taft's eastern campaign manager) in my place.

"But I was informed that I could not do that. I understand Eisenhower, though, is being allowed to have a representative there."

"Do you mean that you think this policy unfair?" a reporter asked the senator.

"I certainly do," he replied. Taft made the statement here in Cincinnati, his home town.

Might Have Failed

A spokesman for the league said the forum might have failed if everyone were allowed the same opportunity. Otherwise, some of the other candidates might have had pressing business and sent substitutes, she said.

The other candidates to appear on the program, as announced by Mrs. John G. Lee of Farmington, Conn., league president, will be:

Democrats: Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okla), Averill Harriman; Republicans: Harold E. Stassen and Gov. Earl Warren of California

Taft said he could not be there because of a heavy campaign schedule that day — he is campaigning in Ohio this week—starting at Hiram College and ending up that night in Akron.

The forum for Thursday is unprecedented:

For the first time in American history, leading candidates for President will appear on a platform so that millions of televiewers can look them over and hear them discuss the same topics.

These topics already have been chosen for them, in ballots by thousands of members and guests of the league in 291 forums held in 42 states.

The candidates each will be given three minutes to present their views on 1. Corruption in government (the most important campaign issue in the forums' opinions) and 2. Aid to Europe.

In addition, eight other questions will be asked by picked members of the studio audience. These questions also were chosen by the league forums by ballots. They were, in order of selection:

The United Nations, Korea, taxes, internal security, mutual security, living costs, international cooperative effort, aiding governments not measuring up to democratic standards.

Two Members Of Marion League Attending Session

Mrs. James E. Frew and Mrs. Vesta T. Williams of Marion left today to attend the national convention of the League of Women Voters in Cincinnati. The local delegates will join with league members from 47 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and D. C. to adopt a national plan of work for the next two years, to adopt a budget, and to elect national officers.

On Thursday evening presidential candidates have been invited to address the league on issues selected as most important by public balloting held throughout the country. The local league conducted such balloting last week, asking each person voting to select the two most important questions on both domestic and foreign issues

On the domestic side, 50 per cent of the Marionites voting thought the question "How would you prevent dishonesty and inefficiency in government?" to be most important; while 38 per cent thought both "Do current government controls and subsidies increase or hold down the cost of living?" and "Are current tax rates too high, and if so, how would you change them?" to be vital. In the foreign field 47 per cent voted for the question "Would you increase or reduce the amount of our economic aid to foreign countries?" and 36 per cent voted for "How much reliance should we place upon the United Nations as an instrument of our foreign policy?"

The telecast of this program will be carrietd over ABC-TV, 7-8 p.m. while the radio broadcast will be on NBC, 9:30-10.

SWEET PEAS

Sweet pea success depends largely on getting an early start—just as soon as the ground can be worked in the spring It is no longer necessary to follow the 6 inch deep planting Now 1½ inches deep is okay and as weather gets warmer add soil to the trench, thus keeping the plant from drying out.

Sweet peas like an alkaline soil. To keep it this, way scatter lime thinly, giving the soil surface a light powdering. When plants are 8 inches high, give nitrate of soda, or water thorough with liquid manure

Use cotton twine for support. Check mildew with light dusting of sulphur at 8-day intervals, until trouble is overcome.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

I sent a grateful glance to my husband, but the remembrance of an almost imperceptible gesture of my father s to Dicky was gnawing at my curiosity.

"Thank you a million," I told him. "I'd love a nap. But, first, didn't Father give you a signal to go down with him?"

"Yes, my sapient spouse," he said with a grin, "he did, but you're not going to know what he said after you wake up, even if you emulate the celebrated cat, and never wake up. Then I'll dish every bean sprout"

"Okay," I told him snuggling down under the blanket. "But you'd better untangle your words."

"My diction is impeccable," he told me loftily, with his hand on the door But as he went through it, he flashed me a tender, comradely smile that was as soothing and as efficacious as a sedative

I went to sleep almost immediately and did not waken until two hours later, when I felt the pressure of Dicky's fingers on my wrist, and opened my eyes to see him smiling down at me

"Lil's awake," he said "She came out into the hall and asked where you were I told her you were asleep, and she went back into her room, saying not to disturb you. But she looked as if the devil were using her for a rocking horse, so I thought you'd want to take a look at her"

"Of course," I said, taking the hand he held out to me and scrambling out of bed "Never mind helping me with my shoes, I can manage those But be a lamb, and put the tea kettle on the little electric stove behind the screen Then come back here, and hibernate I'll call you if I need you"

"Okay," he said starting for the door There he turned and gave me a resigned look

"Needs must," he said "finish it yourself."

He dodged out of the door, closing it softly behind him. I hurried on my shoes, smoothed my dress, and adjusted my coiffure Then, after a refreshing dash of water on my face and wrists, I went into Faith's room, finding Lillian lying on her back, with her eyes staring at the ceiling

"I told Dicky to let you sleep," she said almost pettishly when I had reached her bedside

"He's a wise lad," I told her with a grin. 'He knows better than to take orders from any other woman. I've got him trained so he jumps at the crack of my whip only. Just paste that in your scrapbook, and stay on your own side of the fence"

Her lips twitched a bit, but no smile came to them, and I went on briskly.

"I also am prescribing for you, my girl," I told her, 'and you'd better get your throat muscles in swallowing order First, you're going to stay right in this bed for a while. Second, in another minute, I'll wipe off your face and hands with a nice cold wet towel Third, I'm going into my screened kichenette—Dicky's already put on the kettle—and fix up a pot of tea and a snack for both of us. I could do with a little nourishment myself I'll bring the tray in here, and eat and drink with you Dicky can fend for himself—that's how hard-hearted a wife I am'"

Cars Damaged In Collision On Route 4

Sideswipe While Crossing Railroad South of Marion

Cars driven by two Marion men were extensively damaged early Sunday when they sideswiped on Route 4 while crossing the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad tracks about five miles south of Marion.

Cecil Lang, 26, of 442 S. State St. was going north and Merlo E. Jackson, 25, was driving south when their cars sideswiped at 12:30 a.m. The Jackson car went into a ditch and Lang's car stopped on the tracks. The state highway patrol halted approaching trains and conducted single lane traffic on Route 4 until the Lang car was removed by a wrecker.

Jackson was taken by a passing motorist to Marion City Hospital, where he was released after treatment for cuts on the head and chin.

Four accidents Saturday were also reported by the patrol.

Three persons were injured after cars driven by Russell H. Seitter, 17, of near Cardington and William N. Brown, 26, of Cardington sideswiped on Route 529, about 1½ miles west of Cardington, at 7:20 p.m. Seitter was driving west and Brown was traveling east. Both cars were damaged extensively.

Brown was cut on the scalp, right arm and both hands, and Irene Brown, a passenger in his car, suffered nose lacerations and a bruised left side. Also injured was Fred Axthelm, of near Cardington, a passenger in Seitter's car, who was cut on the forehead and face. They were released after treatment at Morrow County Hospital, where they were taken by a passing motorist.

Brown was arrested on a charge of driving left of center and was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty before Mayor Don Healea of Cardington.

Truck Runs off Road

William R. Lattin, 50, of Columbus apparently fell asleep at the wheel of a tractor and semi-trailer at 1:15 a.m. and drove off the side of the road. He was driving south on Route 42, three miles south of Cardington. The vehicle was extensively damaged. Lattin was not injured.

A truck driven by John Kilman 20, of Indianapolis, Ind., struck the rear of a tractor and semi-trailer driven by Robert Stanley, 20, of Oneida, Tenn., as both were driving south on Route 42, three miles north of Mt. Gilead, at 5 p.m. Considerable damage to both vehicles was reported. No one was injured.

Kilman was charged with following too closely. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs by R. R. Bennington, justice of the peace in Mt. Gilead.

Cars driven by Charles Lauchner, 36, of Ashley and Robert L. Board, 22, of Richwood collided in Prospect at the junction of routes 47 and 257 at 3:45 p.m. Lauchner was going east and Board, traveling west, was attempting a left turn. The cars were extensively damaged. No injuries were reported.

Beard was cited to appear in Marion Municipal Court today on a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

Business Man Checks On Speed of Police

MUNCIE, Ind. (UP)— It pays to check on everything but police here think a new partner in a local business went a little too far.

It was 4:55 a. m. when an ADT alarm rang at headquarters and the dispatcher promptly sent officers to check.

On arrival they learned the new member of the firm had set off the alarm.

"Just checking to see how long it takes police to respond to a burglar alarm," the cautious business man said.

Two Charged With Thefts

Two Marion men were charged today with pilfering valuables ranging from tires to an electric sweeper from cars, city police reported. The men, Richard William Baker, 27, of 342 E. Farming St. and Harley William Brownstead, 25, of New Bloomington, were scheduled to be arraigned in Municipal Court today on charges of petty larceny.

Police said the pair looted cars in this area over a four or five month period. Taken were three tires and car wheels, suitcases, blankets, an electric sweeper, and other small items.

They were arrested by city police at 3:33 a.m. Saturday on W. Center St. Police said the investigation is continuing Union Opposes City Manager Form of Govt.

The Marion Central Labor Union went on record as opposing the city manager plan of local government in its meeting Tuesday night.

The action followed a report of a committee composed of Ray Beverly and Carroll W. Davidson, appointed earlier this year to contact the mayor regarding the plan.

Following a discussion on the matter of daylight saving time, it was the opinion of the members present that the time should be left as it is now and that the matter be placed before the voters in the November election.

During the meeting the secretary was instructed to write President Truman urging him to veto the tide lands oil bill.

It takes from 3,500 to 5,000 bees to weigh a pound.

Teacher's Course Ends at Sycamore

SYCAMORE — A dinner party in the Upper Sandusky School dining room marked the close of the extension course taken by a group of Wyandot County teachers. Miss Eyster of the Bowling Green University faculty has been the instructor during the year. Miss Margaret Cain, a blind student from the university, was present and told of her work in preparing to be a teacher. Miss Cain is a senior.

Those from Sycamore completing the extension course were Mrs. Aurian Grandstaff, Mrs. Grace Wenner, Mrs Gladys Weininger, Mrs. Helen Miller and Mrs. Ruth Pancost.

Scientists are putting isotopes to work in hundreds, if not thousands, of ways in medicine, biology, agriculture and industry. A booming peace-time industry has been built on the by-products of the atomic age.

FINDS HOME FOR SONS. Mrs. Evelyn Paro, 44-year-old cancer victim, with her two sons, Gerald, 6 (left), and Gordon, 9, read some of the more than 300 offers to adopt the boys at their home in Duluth, Minn. Mrs. Paro has been told by doctors that her death is a matter of but weeks. She asked the Duluth News Tribune and Herald last week to help in finding a home for the boys. She chose Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Moore of Duluth as foster-parents for the youngsters.

NURSE TO GRADUATE

UPPER SANDUSKY — Rosemary Casey of near Upper Sandusky will be graduated from the Mercy Hospital School of Nursing at Toledo, May 10. Miss Casey will be among 36 in the senior class who will participate in graduation activities which begin April 30 and include a religious retreat, Alumnae Association banquet, presentation of pins at a breakfast, and the graduation ceremony. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Casey of near Upper Sandusky.

4-H Club News

Officers for the new year were elected when the Pleasant High School 4-H Club met Tuesday, April 15, at the school. Donna Carpenter was elected president; Barbara Burton, vice president; Shirley Seiter secretary; Roberta Shorter, treasurer; Darlene Miller, reporter, and Nancy Newell, Janet Moyer and Barbara Shorter, recreation leaders. Miss Lois Simonds, Marion County home demonstration agent, was present and gave a talk on the various projects of 4-H work. A name for the club is to be selected at the next meeting, April 29.

Election of officers for the year was held when the Green Camp Boys 4-H Club held a reorganization meeting April 15 at the school. John Bish was elected president; Harold Wasserbeck, vice president; Becky Converse, secretary and treasurer; Ronnie Converse, reporter, and Vernon Beaver, advisor. Meetings are to be held every two weeks, the next one on April 30.

The Snip and Clip 4-H Club of Upper Sandusky elected officers at the first meeting of the year. Those elected are as follows: president, Iris Koehler, vice president, Julia Sebenelor, secretary, Sara Lou Miller; assistant secretary, Carol Herring; treasurer, Janet Phillips, assistant treasurer, Nancy Eippert; news reporter, June Delaplane; assistant news reporter, Patty Lindstedt, recorder, Doris Hablitzel; assistant recorder, Christine Bolish.

The Salem Hi-Lighters 4-H Club of Upper Sandusky, are planning to plant trees on Arbor day, for one of their year's projects.

The Jolly Stitchers 4-H Club appointed committees as follows: health—Carolyn Kotterman, Judy Kellogg and Beverly Brewer, safety—Janet Kellogg, Betty and Carol Rieser. This group will hold a bake sale May 17 at the Ellis-Martin garage in Upper Sandusky.

SEE FILM ON CANCER

Mrs. James Crabtree, presided at a recent meeting of the Glenwood School PTA. The Rev. William Reeves conducted devotions and Dr. A. E. Morrison showed a film on cancer. Ralph Reed, Derrell Burnside, Billy Haugh and Jack Maxim, members of the seventh grade at Claridon School, presented special music.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

EXACTLY A YEAR AGO a pretty blonde American woman arrived at the Kremlin. MVD secret police officers and dignitaries from Josef Stalin's Politburo greeted the lady and conferred with her on American activities.

A few days later she was given the honor due an American who loves the Soviets — she was permitted to stand 300 feet from overlooking the May Day Parade overlooking the May Day Parade in Red Square while the Politburo cheered their jets as they swished by in the sky on their way to MIG Alley.

Now, one year later, I've found the Red Lady, by name of Esther Letz, operating a cross-country network of pro-Communist labor outfits called the United Labor Action Committee, headquarters 210 West 50th St New York 19, New York Telephone number Judson 6-4922. So we have it all on the record.

Since this Kremlin kid would hardly be wasted on a minor project and since she plans to run a series of political rallies here as well as in New York (April 29) and on the West Coast, I thought we'd be unrefined and pry into her private affairs.

Checking back I learned that this personal friend of Josef Stalin was operating out of the New York District headquarters of guess what—the United Public Workers, no less. Most of the time she kept her office under her modish hat, which all the lady comrades love with a passion which must betray bourgeois capitalist instincts. But in New York she worked out of the headquarters of this pro-Communist union which has members, not only in the Federal government, but also in New York's key hospitals.

IN OTHER WORDS, here is a link between high Soviet official who were her hosts, and a union which demands the right to unionize government employes in our most strategic and critical public services. Here in Chicago incidentally, she is always welcome at the new pro-Communist propaganda bureau at 166 W Washington St.

Esther Letz's assignment is simple and direct. She must organize public and labor resentment against Congressional Committees and Federal District Attorneys who now have developed the uncomfortable habit of asking for all the records of pro-Russian unions.

This can hurt the brethren. The membership lists would reveal just where the Public Workers Union, for example, has placed its members in government bureaus. But that's not all. The financial records of certain other pro-Communist unions would reveal the outfits into which the left wingers have pumped the members' funds.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES have reason to believe that unions they are now examining paid huge sums to mobsters for violence, big sums to non-political unionists to turn over their membership to the Communists and big sums to other unions to respect the left wing picket lines around helpless businessmen — so that in some communities these unions became a power against which merchants had to arm themselves if they wanted protection.

The Federal men know that some of the pro-Soviet propagandists here used exactly such tactics until driven out of New York to be replaced by little Esther.

So now we find Sister Letz writing politically seductive letters to non-Communist unions asking them to join her in this fight and in a series of mass meetings in New York and Chicago—and at the demonstrations against Congress and the Federal District Attorneys.

As she said in a letter to leaders of the AFL entertainment unions, she wants to prove that these probes are "an attack against all of labor and are designed to curtail labor's fight against the wage freezes, high prices, taxes and growing unemployment."

IN THIS LETTER, dated April 17, 1952, now in my possession, she said:

"We would also like to invite those of your members who are already victim of blacklisting to sit on the platform together with victims from other industries to dramatically portray those who have been victimized by Congressional Committees and to urge full participation of trade unions in enacting the proposed program of action in order to keep the number of victims from increasing."

This is just an effort to tie non-Communists to the brethren's apparatus. It is led by a woman honored in the Soviet Union. Why, as a Michigan law demands, shouldn't such obvious friends of the Soviet be forced to register with the police? Why should they be free to defend those who defend the enemy?

We're downright silly.

Battle of Paychecks

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

MANY AMERICAN married men are taking a great secret interest in the fate of a proposed law being debated in Britain's parliament.

The law would give British wives a legal right to a fair share of their husband's income.

You understand, old bean, things are done differently in America and Britain. Here the average wife can get everything in her husband's pocket by force of arms, language or tears.

But over there the Englishman holds to the old-fashioned idea he is still the king of the cottage. What's his is his. And what is his wife's? Well, whatever he decides to give her.

Naturally, the Englishman wants to do the sporting thing by her—fair play and all that, y'know. But what with pub prices being what they are, and say a man's had a bad fortnight at the dart board—"well, old girl chin up, you'll just have to skimp along with the shillings that are left."

The master of the house gets the lord's share of the pay cheque and the wife has to eke out her tea and crumpets as best she can on her martial dole.

Often British husbands won't even tell the old girl how much they really earn, figuring it really isn't any of her business.

DR. EDITH SUMMERSKILL says this is "stupid, because there is no more certain way of alienating a woman's affection." She is author of the proposed new law that would enable British wives to go into court and force their husbands to divvy up their take-home pay.

British men might be amazed to learn that probably most American husbands heartily hope parliament passes the law. They would probably regard it as masculine traitorism on the part of their Yankee cousins.

But actually it is a step in self-protection, a bold new bid for domestic liberty on the part of the American male. Here is a summary of the views I heard expressed by a group of husbands here who discussed the proposal.

"The way I see it," said one moustached mouse, "is this: if parliament gives British women a break, maybe we can get Congress to pass a law forcing our wives over here to let us have a fair share of our paychecks."

"What I don't see is how Englishmen manage to keep the size of their salaries secret," marveled another husband. "My wife makes me bring home my paycheck in my mouth. Sometimes I don't even know myself what I'm making."

I KNOW WHAT you mean," remarked a third. "I have to deliver my check unopened, too. The last time I hit my boss up for a raise, he said, 'Why, I've given you two in the last six months.' First I'd heard about it. When I asked my wife, she told me, 'I didn't want it to go to your head, Junior.'"

"You guys ought to learn to put your foot down," bragged a fourth husband. "I tell my wife every morning she either has to give me a dollar or I won't go to work. She forks out, too."

The others shook their heads at this bravery and agreed nothing so foolhardy would work with their wives.

Finally a white-haired old veteran of forty years of martial warfare said:

"Boys let's quit kidding ourselves. No matter what parliament does for wives in Britain, Congress wouldn't dare do a thing for husbands here. They'd be too afraid of their own wives.

"No, in America men have lost their battle for the freedom of the paycheck.

"Today our wives and the government are fighting a tug-of-war for it. All a husband can do is sit on the sidelines and holler, 'On wife! On government!' Whoever wins—well, it won't be us."

U.N. Command Submits New Peace Plan

"Overall Solution" Handed Reds In Secret Conference

MUNSAN (AP)—The United Nations Command today gave the Communists what it called an "overall solution" to the three critical issues blocking a Korean armistice.

Details were not disclosed. But the Communists, after agreeing to keep the full dress negotiations secret, asked for an indefinite recess. Presumably they want to submit the plan to Peiping and Pyongyang.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U.N. spokesman, said:

"The United Nations Command feels that an overall solution to the problem is possible and for that reason such an overall solution was proposed today."

It was handed to the Communists at the first meeting of the main Allied and Communists delegations in Panmunjon in more than two months.

Blocking progress in the 9½ months of truce negotiations are the issues of prisoner exchange, nomination of Russia by the Reds as a neutral observer during any armistice and a U.N. demand for restrictions on air field construction.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior U. N. negotiator, proposed at the outset of the plenary session that the discussions be secret. This meant that there would be no announcement of what takes place.

Bad Weather Slows Fighting

SEOUL, KOREA (AP)—Stormy weather today held air and ground action in the Korean war to a minimum.

Allied night fliers had poor hunting. The Fifth Air Force said pilots destroyed 29 Red supply vehicles at Wonsan on the northeast coast but generally air strikes were fruitless.

About 100 Chinese, supported by mortar fire, attacked an Allied position northeast of Kuwhwa on the central front. They were thrown back after the skirmish closed to within hand grenade range.

READY FOR WEDDING MACH. Soaking up a little sun, bandleader Xavier Cugat and singer Abbee Lane take a few hours off from musical chores in San Antonio, Tex. Cugat's divorce from Lorraine Cugat became final recently and he plans to wed Miss Lane in Miami. It will be the rumba king's third marriage and the first for his fiancee.

Kefauver

interests. This matter of corruption is not a partisan issue," he said.

He concluded by saying that the "chiselers" should be driven out of Washington, D. C.

His red-haired, attractive wife, Nancy, went to Bucyrus to save him a little time on his tour which had fallen behind schedule. Before 150 there she said she was convinced that the people have been reassured that Senator Kefauver has courage and integrity as a result of his tour throughout the nation.

Rejoins Party At Galion

Mrs. Kefauver and her party joined the senator at Galion.

After his Marion talk, Kefauver shook hands with more than 100 persons. He meets people with poise and friendliness. When one man apologized for chewing tobacco he said, "That's all right. I take a chew myself occasionally when I go fishing."

The senator is better looking than his pictures would indicate. He is deeply tanned and his dark hair is flecked with grey.

He was scheduled to only shake a few hands in Upper Sandsuky before coming to Marion. He had already made talks at Tiffin and Fostoria. But he spoke long enough to laud the Ohio drive against gambling and to present his platform. He asked for cooperation to secure peace, integrity for the nation, and equal opportunity for all.

SQUIRRELS PAMPERED

HARRISBURG (UP)—Pennsylvania taxpayers paid for 300 pounds of English walnuts this year for the gray squirrels in the state capitol park. Not only have the capitol squirrels lost their taste for acorns, which abound in the park, but insist that the soft-shelled walnuts be cracked.

Minstrel Show At Merseilles Scheduled

The Marseilles "Jubilee Minstrel" will be presented in the Marseilles School auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday.

The minstrel show is under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Howe and David Youngs. The Band Booster Club is sponsoring the program, which will consist of vocal, instrumental and novelty numbers.

Justin Flowers will be interlocutor. The chorus, assisted by Melville Van Buskirk as accompanist, consists of 30 high school and community members.

Special guests of the evening will be "The Ken Tones," composed of Don Buroker, David Youngs, Kenneth Osborne and Stan Statler.

ASK DITCH IMPROVEMENT

A petition was filed Saturday with the Marion County commissioners for the improvement of Mud Run Ditch in Scott Township in Marion County and Dallas Township in Crawford Township The Marion County commissioners were sceduled to meet today to set a date for a hearing on the improvement and viewing the ditch, in cooperation with the Crawford County commissioners.

Two Injured In Accidents

Two Marion persons were injured in four traffic accidents over the week end, city police reported today.

Mrs. Eleanor Pasters of 257 Superior St. suffered a back injury in a collision at 9:43 p.m. Saturday. A car driven by her husband John M. Pasters, 48, and a car driven by Arch L. Manley, 60, of 731 W. Center St. Collided on W. Center St. in front of the L-K Sandwich Shop.

Shortly after the accident, Manley was arrested on a charge of intoxication. Damage to both cars was slight. Mrs. Pasters was treated by a local physician.

Dom Spoznini, 63, of 262 Case Ave. suffered a minor head injury in a collision at 7:12 p.m. Sunday. He was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Bessie E. Arcuri, 42, of the same address. The Arcuri car and a car driven by Harold E. Brewer, 23, of near Marion collided at the intersection of Cass Ave. and Silver St. Damage to both cars was slight.

Cars driven by Mrs. Helen L. Stanton of 304 E. Walnut St. and John Albert Scheff, 35, of 236 W. Columbia St. collided on N. Main St. at the Erie Railroad tracks Police said neither car was damaged.

At 1:11 a.m. Sunday a car driven by Homer A. Seiter, 63, of 383 S. Main St. and a car driven by Donald R. Hypes, 18, of 316 Park St. Damage was slight.

Three Arrests Made By Marion Police

Three arrests were reported Monday by city police.

Frank James Riesber, 29, of Dennison Ave. was arrested on a charge of speeding on N. Main St. at 12:33 p.m. Sunday. He posted $35 for his appearance in Municipal Court Monday.

At 2:56 a.m. Sunday Frank William Eisman, 21, of 142 Canby Ct. was arrested on a charge of speeding on St. Prospect St. He posted $35 for his appearance in Municipal Court Monday.

Leo Vincent Driscoll, 48, of Erie, Pa., was arrested on a charge of trespassing on Erie Railroad property at 12:46 a.m. Monday. He was held for his appearance in Municipal Court Monday.

More Than 600, NAHB Says

Claim "Hidden" Taxes Responsible for High Cost of New Homes

WASHINGTON (INS) — The National Association of Home Builders has come up with an almost unbelievable estimate that each home buyer in this country pays more than 600 "hidden" taxes on his new house.

In a special study, NABH says this "tremendous" tax load—imposed by federal, state and local governments—is one of the main reasons housing prices have skyrocketed in recent years.

Association officials estimate some $2,000 worth of taxes are collected on every $10,000 house constructed. That's 20 per cent of the total selling price with the "take" still higher for more costly homes.

Moreover, NAHB says prospective home owners as well as those who have already purchased a house can look for little tax relief in the coming year.

Upcoming state and federal budgets indicate new tax loads are in the making so NAHB concludes that "unless a miracle intervenes the tax cost of housing probably will go up in the near future."

WHEN MOST home buyers are ready to close a real estate deal, they are told merely what annual taxes they must pay to the state. Frequently, these payments are figured in the loan agreement and are deducted from monthly installments on the loan.

What builders fail to specify are the hundreds of taxes, multiplied over and over again, that shoot up the cost of the new home. NAHB obtained some statistics from the Tax Foundation of New York City to set the record straight.

The Tax Foundation learned that some 500 "hidden" taxes are levied merely on construction. This includes all the taxes paid by the firms making the building materials, the distributors supplying them, and the subcontractors who put the house together.

In addition, another 100 taxes were estimated to have been paid out by the buyer, the bank, fire and title insurance concerns, the builder, real estate agent and the architect for developing, financing and selling the house.

True, the taxes ranged from infinitesimal amounts paid out for telephones, and gasoline to company income taxes and special building levies that are considered part of every-day business operations.

But taken together with the direct taxes on the house, NAHB says housing costs are boosted to the point where "it is indeed a miracle that sales prices are as low as they are."

THE POSSIBILITY the government may soon lift the ban on construction of theaters, race tracks, night clubs and other amusement projects is touching off a new drive for removal of real estate credit controls.

Home builders reportedly are "incensed" that the government's widespread trend to free industry generally from federal regulation has not yet resulted in a further easing of home buying credit restrictions.

One building industry man says: "We think it is particularly unjust for the government to take these actions without affording relief to home buyers. We are not going to sit by and do nothing while the ban on amusement projects is relaxed."

A FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD survey indicates consumers will buy about as many new homes this year as they did in 1951 although much of the wartime housing backlog has been satisfied.

The board says prospects are for "continued strength of demand in the housing market" this year. Moreover, the agency declares consumer buying plans for 1953 is "at least as large" as those for 1952.

However, officials noted that between 1951 and 1952 there was "some decline in the number of people tentatively considering such purchases." The board adds:

"Buying plans suggest that the number of new houses that will be purchased in 1952 is about the same, or slightly less, than last year, provided that material, price, quality and credit factors do not change significantly."

The board points out that the big drop in home building last year was not only caused by credit controls but also the end of the Korean buying spree and "in part the prior satisfaction of much of the wartime backlog of housing needs."

As for consumer durable goods like refrigerators, washing machines and other household articles, the board says "somewhat less frequent" purchases of these items are in store for merchants this year."

In many birds the muscles used in flight constitute about half the weight of the bird.

TALKS TO PROBERS. A Chicago attorney for an advertising firm, Thomas Sullivan testifies before House tax probers in Washington. He said that former Internal Revenue Commissioners Joseph Nunan was paid a $25,000 fee for "three or four" telephone calls to expedite a favorable tax ruling, and for "standby" services in a stock transaction.

Baptist Choir Presents Program At Galion School

Special to The Star

GALION—The gospel message was presented through the medium of sacred choral music, hymns and personal testimony Friday by the Baptist Bible Institute choir of Cleveland. Junior High School auditorium was filled for the occasion, with delegations present from Bucyrus, Shelby, Marion and Crestline. The program in Galion was sponsored by First Baptist Church, of which Rev. Wilfred Booth is pastor.

The choir was under the direction of Mrs. Vivian K. Amsler, and is composed of 43 voices. Mrs. Amsler travelled with the Moody Bible Institute trio which was composed of Wendell P. Loveless, George Edstrom and herself. She is the wife of the head of the Baptist Bible Institute.

Besides the choir numbers, there were solos including one sung in Hebrew by Samuel Kalmus, violin selection by Howard Andrus, accordion selections by Donald Collins, trio numbers, male chorus selections, girls' chorus, and quartet numbers.

In piano accompaniment, Mrs. Amsler was assisted by Juanita McCullough of Cleveland, and Joanne Hough of Marion. The choir appeared Thursday in Toledo, and will sing tonight in Bellefontaine.

Your vacation starts when you take the wheel

YES, we know vacation time's still a few weeks away.

But before you start laying out your sport clothes, giving last year's bathing suit a critical gander, or scanning road maps, we'd like to ask one important question:

How are you going to get there?

Will those miles you decide to travel slip beneath you so easily that you hardly know the road is there?

Will you pull up at a hotel, motel or camp, wishing you'd set your sights on one another two hours away?

Will your shoulders be free from aches—and you-know-what free from numbness?

The best way to get the right answer to these questions is to start out in a Buick.

There's legroom, shoulderroom, elbowroom for everyone to ride at ease—and big, soft, deep cushions to keep you comfortable.

There's a Million Dollar Ride to soothe the miles.

There's an oversized trunk to keep the car uncluttered.

There's Dynaflow Drive* to let the driver ride relaxed for hour after hour and protect back-seat riders from that wooziness that goes with lurch-and-go driving.

And along with all this, there's a mile-eating Fireball 8 Engine—a high-compression valve-in-head with turbo-top pistons—that stretches a tankful of gas surprisingly far.

Time's afleeting. If you want to make this year's vacation trip a joy from the day you leave home, the wise thing to do is order that Buick now. How about a demonstration?

Oil Industry Faces Strike

DENVER (AP)—The threat of a nationwide strike hovered over the oil industry today as the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) completed final preparations for a walkout, slated to begin at 12:01 a.m. local time, Wednesday.

A major portion of the industry would be affected by the strike which could virtually paralyze the nation's output of gas and oil.

A 26-man policy committee met at Denver headquarters of the union Sunday to lay plans for the walkout. Following the meeting the union issued a statement signed by OWIU President O. A. Knight, which stated, in part:

"Final plans for a nationwide strike have been completed. It will go on unless collective bargaining produces a satisfactory settlement of the wage dispute before the deadline hour."

forces dispute this, claiming more than 300 delegate votes.

Missouri will begin its selection of 26 delegates with a district convention Tuesday. Texas will delay its choice of 38 delegates until May 27, with Eisenhower and Taft backers each claiming they will wind up with at least 30 of them.

If Eisenhower should win the majority of the total number of Massachusetts, Missouri and Texas delegates, Taft would offset this by his expected pickup of most of Ohio's 56 in a May 6 primary and Indiana's 32 in a July 2-3 convention.

Additional Pressure

This would put additional pressure on Warren, Fine and Summerfield individually to swing their delegations to one of the two major candidates.

Most powerful of the trio is tall, affable Gov. Warren, himself an active candidate for the nomination. Warren obviously hopes to become the convention's choice if a deadlock develops. For that reason he may be slow in releasing his 70 California delegates, plus the six he won in Wisconsin and any others he may pick up.

Fine and Summerfield are not regarded as likely to back Warren as a compromise candidate.

It is believed that apple trees were taken to England during the period of the Roman occupation.

LOST 62 LBS. WITH RENNEL

Results Please Lima Lady

"Before taking Rennel I was gaining weight steadily," writes Mrs. Gladys Stroud, 116½ N. West St., Lima, Ohio. "I could hardly get my family meals or walk to the corner grocery store. Since I have been taking Rennel I have lost 62 lbs., and I am still losing weight. I feel much better, can do my work again and no longer feel all tired out. I certainly recommend Rennel to anyone who is overweight."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennel at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today upheld New York's released time program for giving religious instructions to public school pupils.

Run Own Lunchroom

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The employes of one firm here are beating inflation by running a co-operative lunchroom where they eat at noon for 37 cents.

This amount will get you a serving of ham, navy beans, corn bread, sliced tomatoes and cottage cheese, ice cream and cookies. In addition you get all the coffee you want all day long at no extra charge.

The employes of the Tulsa Farmers and Merchants Bank chip in every two weeks and buy wholesale. The bank vault custodian does the buying and plans menus.

The bank furnished the kitchen, pays the cook's salary and provides the coffee. Because the "coffeeteria" is small, the employes eat at staggered hours.

BIRTHS KEEP PACE

ASHLAND, Ala. (UP) — Dr. Joseph Wiley Jordan, 91, has practiced medicine here for more than 61 years. He estimates he has officiated at more than 4,500 births in the nearby area. That's enough population for three towns the size of Ashland.

Navy Club

served by women of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church, was held in the officers club at the Marion Engineer Depot to approximately 100 officials and guests. Music was furnished by Mrs. Golda Swope.

Edward McAndrews of the local club served as master of ceremonies. Commandant Eugene Miller of Marion extended greetings on behalf of the Marion ship and auxiliary. Arthur L. Watt, a past local, state and national Navy Club official, serving as proxy for Mayor Harold Robinson who is convalescing from the flu, presented National Commandant Carl Solomonson of Rockford, Ill. with a large brass key which Watt stated "was not the key to the city, but a key reputedly to one of Marion's original bastilles, which had been a treasure of the Watt family for many years. From the worn condition of the keys' business end many guests had been entertained in the old days—but no less historic was this key than the hospitality of Marion for its out-of-town guests."

Installs Officers

Solomonson, assisted by Miller of Youngstown, who is also a past national commandant, installed the new squadron officers, and Mrs. Mary Ritter of Akron, a past national commandant of the auxiliary, assisted by past squadron commandants Mrs. Jeanette Miller of Youngstown and Mrs. Mildred Miller of Lima, installed the incoming state auxiliary officials. Mrs. Opal Woods of Clinton, Ill., current national commandant, presented Mrs Andrews with her badge of office.

Officials of the organization introduced included Dr. Royal J. Mashek, immediate past national commandant of Milwaukee; Sigfried Sandeen, first national commandant, of Rockford, Ill.; Forest F. Bodiker of Lima; John L. Zimmerman of Springfield; Earl Lawson of Vincennes, Ind.; and Miller of Youngstown, all past top officials. Incumbent national officials attending were Arlo Breidenbaugh Jr. of Jasper, Ind., junior executive officer, Harold Haughn of Marion, chaplain; Berl Sheely of Lima, historian; Roger B. Farver of Akron, medical officer; Walter T. Popjoy of Chicago, master-at-arms; Alton Myers of Valpraiso, Ind., judge advocate; Cyril Ault of Lafayette, Indiana, chairman of rehabilitation; and Captain Lester Merritt, commander of the Naval Air Station at Columbus, who is also commandant of the Columbus ship.

Other past national commandants of the auxiliary in attendance, were Mrs. Florence Bodiker of Lima, and Mrs. Evelyn Fox of Marion.

Speaker of the evening in addition to the national commandant was Dr. Walter D. McClaskey of Marion who gave several humorous anecdotes. Dancing rounded out the Saturday entertainment.

Business sessions of the national and state staffs were held Sunday at Hotel Harding.

NAMES IKE. Representative T. M. Machrowicz (D), Mich., a member of the traveling congressional committee probing the wartime massacre of thousands of Polish officers in the Katyn Forest, Russia, touched off an uproar in Frankfurt, Germany, when he "privately" injected the name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower into the probe. Machrowicz told newsmen he found it strange that at no time did Eisenhower make an attempt to get some sort of answer for this atrocious crime.

Farmers Ask Curb On Rainmaking

THE DALLES, Ore. (UP)—A bill to regulate artificial rainmaking will be introduced at the next session of the Oregon legislature.

The measure would set up a five-man board to control rainmaking in Oregon by requiring "cloud-seeders" to record their activities and take out licenses.

The bill is in response to farmer opposition to artificial rainmaking.

were rescued. But early lists did not include the name of the Hobson's skipper, Lt. Comd. W. J. Tierney of Philadelphia. It was feared he might have gone down with his ship.

The Hobson had a normal complement of 13 officers and 212 enlisted men. However, at the time it carried slightly more than that—14 officers and 223 men. Of the 176 missing, it said seven were officers, 169 nlisted personnel.

The crippled Wasp turned back for New York, accompanied by the Rodman as an escort. A spokesman for the Brooklyn Navy Yard said preparations are being made for the repair job, which might require an entirely new bow.

The other ships — the carrier Palau, cruisers Worcester and Baltimore, fleet oiler Pawcatuck, two submarines and 15 destroyers —continued on to Europe.

Hobson's Record

The Hobson was built as a destroyer at the Charleston, S. C. Navy Yard in 1942. Later it was converted into a high-speed minesweeper. Her heroic record in World War II included these high spots

She helped with the landing at Casablanca in North Africa, took part in the strike in Bodo, Norway, where she sank a German submarine, participated in the Normandy landing in France and later the assault on southern France.

When her chores in Europe were finished, the Hobson steamed to the Pacific and fought at Okinawa where her guns were credited with downing four attacking planes.

During this operation the Hobson was damaged by the falling engine of a plane it destroyed and later sailed for home.

The Wasp, second U.S. carrier of that name, was completed at the Quincy, Mass., shipyard of the Bethlehem Steel Co. in 1943. The first Wasp was sunk by American guns after being critically damaged in a torpedo attack south of Solomon Islands in 1942.

TOOTING YOUR OWN HORN ... If you are too loud in your own praise, the effect may be just the opposite of what you might expect.

DEATH TAKES NO. 8. Mrs. Georgina Campbell Manville (above), eighth wife of millionaire Tommy Manville, was killed Saturday when her automobile collided with another car in Greenburg, N. Y. The 33-year-old estranged wife of Manville died when the impact of the collision threw her out the door of her car and under its wheels. Mrs. Manville, a British-born writer, did a column for the "Hobo News" before marrying Manville in 1946.

The present Wasp fought all over the Pacific, and was credited with downing 230 enemy planes and destroying 411 on the ground, sinking 82 ships and damaging 305 for a total tonnage of 1,187,079 sunk or damaged.

The Wasp fought at Wake Island, Saipan, Tinian, Guam and Iwo Jima, among other historic spots.

She suffered a bomb hit that killed 102, but in less than an hour she was putting planes in the air to hit at Kure and Honshu.

One of Worst Since '42

The week-end collision of these two famous ships—and the tragic sinking of the Hobson was one of the worst non-combat disasters since 1942.

On Feb. 18, 1942, the USS Truxton, a destroyer, and the Pollux, a cargo ship, were lost off Newfoundland in a storm. The toll was 204 dead.

Later the same year—on April 19—the destroyer Ingraham was involved in an Atlantic collision with 218 lives lost.

An 18-year-old New Bloomington youth admitted Saturday entering the Agosta postoffice April 22 and taking 54 cents in pennies.

His confession was reported by Postal Inspector R. C. Alexander, who declined to name the youth. Alexander said the youth was apprehended Saturday and confessed the theft. He was left in the custody of his parents

No charges have been filed but Alexander said the case has been turned over to the U.S attorney in Toledo for possible prosecution.

Rainier Motor Sales Safe Cracked

Safecrackers took $100 but missed $314 after breaking open a safe at the Larry Rainier Motor Sales & Service garage at 136 N. Prospect St. early Sunday morning, city police reported today.

Apparently, the thieves were frightened away by a city policeman at 1:42 a.m. Sunday before completing the haul

Patrolman John W. Long saw a window broken on the southeast corner of the building and investigated. Apparently, he frightened the thieves away for they left $314 in folding money within easy reach in the safe.

A garage mechanic's tools were used to break open the safe. Police said the investigation is continuing mediately after the council had asked him to name Eisenhower's successor.

NATO

Council OK's Choice

As the council met for the first time since its move from London, its new secretary - general Lord Ismay told them they were to choose Eisenhower's replacement and "in a way, therefore, this is a sad occasion."

"But our hearts are filled with pride and gratitude for what he has done since he was appointed supreme commander in Europe," Ismay continued.

"It may well be that when history comes to be written, say 100 years hence, that the contributions which he has made towards saving peace will be acclaimed as not less worthy of renown than his contributions toward winning the Second World War."

Ismay's appointment to the NATO post followed a streamlining reorganization ordered by the foreign ministers of 14 NATO countries at their February meeting in Lisbon. The council met today in its new home, the temporary building at the Palais De Chaillot that housed the United Nations General Assembly.

Eisenhower will leave Paris about June 1 to return to inactive duty in the United States, where he is a major contender for the Republican presidential nomination. Now in the midst of a farewell tour in Europe, he went to Germany today for a three-day visit with the troops in the British, French and American zones.

Because of his successor's importance, the matter already has been discussed thoroughly by the NATO governments. The council was left to go through the motions of putting the previous decisions on the record.

An Associated Press survey indicated there was no desire from any NATO country for anyone but an American in the job. The European nations feel such an appointment will help maintain U. S. interest in the buildup of Western defenses and will tend to suppress jealousies among the European nations.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at a candlelighted table as part of her summer project of summer salads, sandwiches and drinks.

Have You Ever Made Funeral Arrangements?

Those who have seldom, or never, had occasion to make funeral arrangements cannot expect to be expert in judging values. This is especially true since so much of the value depends upon service.

The management of Hughes Funeral Service prefers that everyone should be better informed upon this subject. They would understand why it is possible for a firm like this to furnish more in equipment, surroundings and service without charging higher prices.

Anyone interested in learning more about funeral service and its cost is welcome to call. Such an inquiry carries no obligation.

Stuffed Frankfurters Make Novel, Tasty Dish

An economical dinner dish which the family will thoroughly enjoy is baked stuffed frankfurters. Put a layer of bread dressing, sauerkraut or mashed potatoes between split franks, top with barbecue sauce and bake in a 350 F. oven for 30 minutes. For a novel and tasty variation of this dish, stuff the franks with crushed pineapple.

PINEAPPLE STUFED FRANKS

1 lb. frankfurters
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple (2 cups)
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 T butter or margarine
2 t Worcestershire sauce
2 t prepared mustard
¾ t sugar
¼ cup chili sauce

Split frankfurters not quite through. Spread out half the franks, cut side up, in a greased baking dish. Spread with partially drained pineapple. Top with remaining split frankfurters. Cook onion in fat until tender (about 10 minutes). Stir frequently so as not to burn. Add remaining ingredients and cook for 5 minutes Spoon sauce on franks. Bake in a 350 F. oven for 30 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Galion NYC Officials Discuss Crossing

Special to The Star

GALION—Several division officials of the New York Central Railroad Co. were in Galion Thursday for a general discussion of Galion's traffic problems with the Galion traffic commission. The meeting was held at the city building with Mayor Jay F. Nichols presiding.

New York Central officials were asked to meet with the traffic commission to consider the proposition of opening E. Atwood St. across the railroad tracks. This proposal has been recommended by the Galion traffic commission to give some immediate relief to traffic congestion on Harding Way East, Galion's main traffic artery

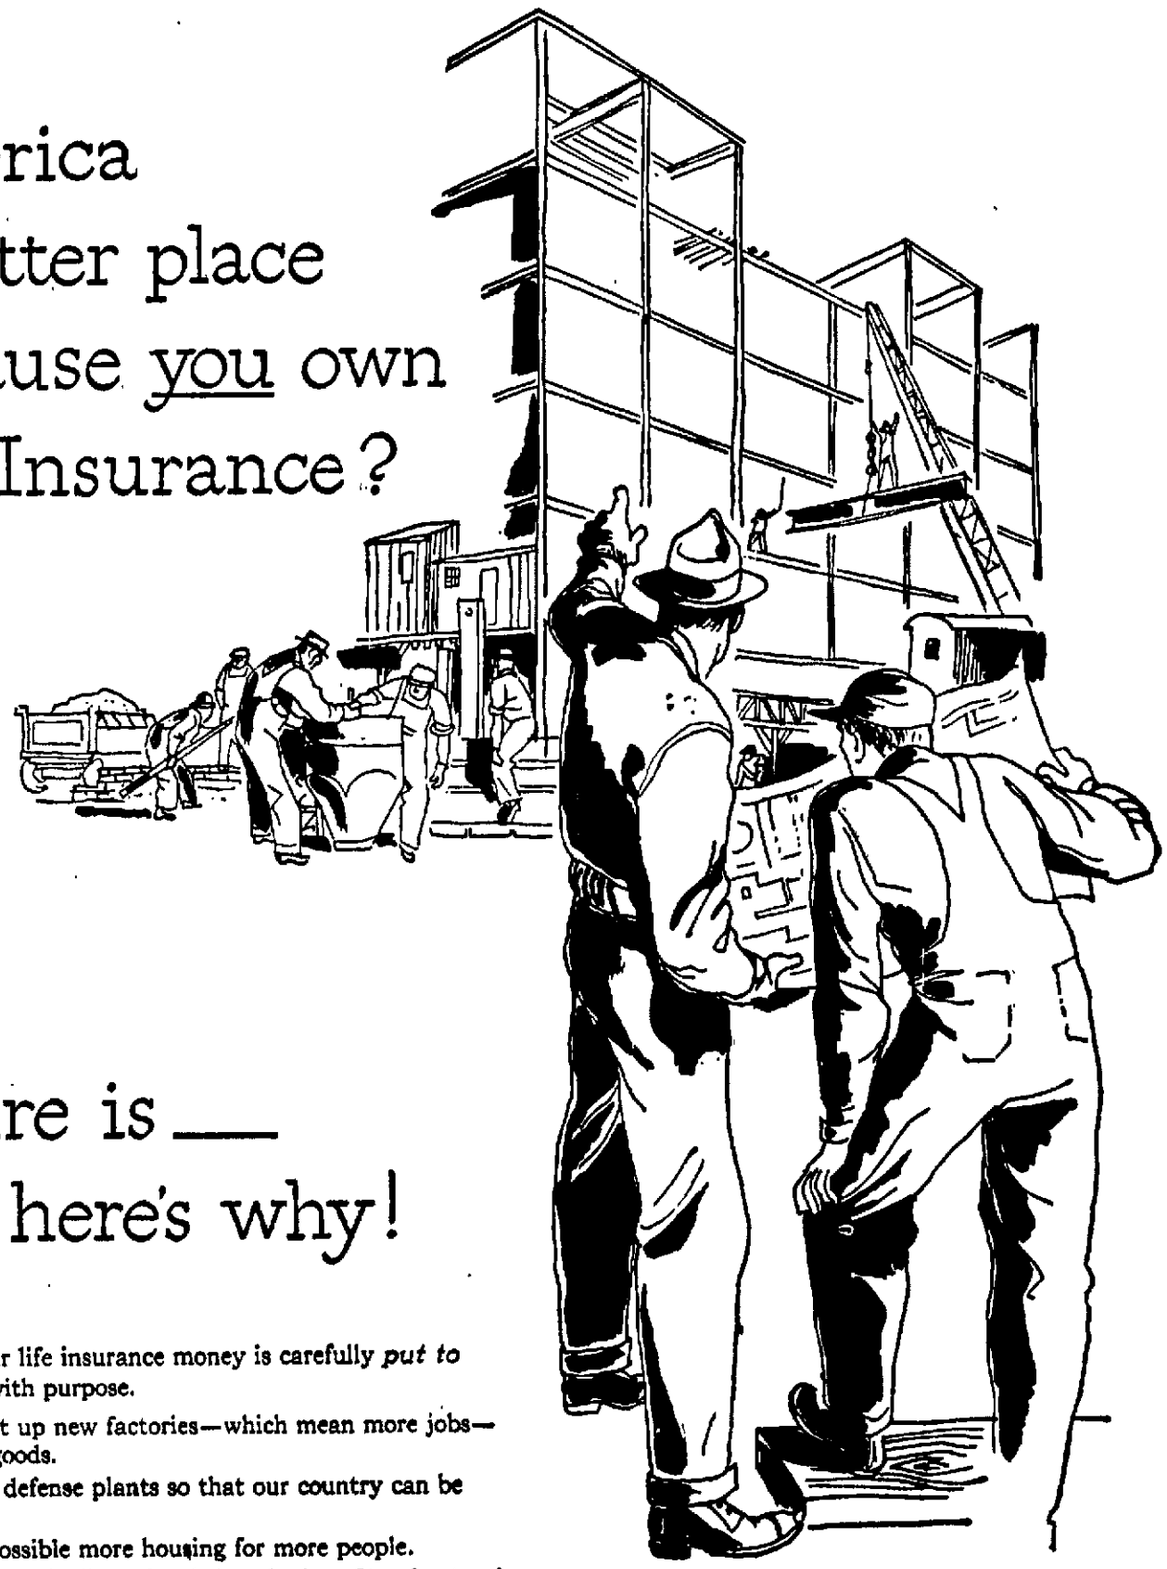
Is America a better place because you own Life Insurance?



It sure is — and here's why!

Because your life insurance money is carefully put to work—and with purpose.

It helps put up new factories—which mean more jobs—and more goods.

It expands defense plants so that our country can be stronger.

It makes possible more housing for more people.

It builds new pipelines that bring the benefits of natural gas to hundreds of cities and towns.

It finances bridges and highways, helps people on farms through farm mortgages, puts up funds for electric light and power units, supplies money for railroad cars—in short, makes possible one thing right after another that you probably were never even aware of.

That's why your life insurance money helps make America better. It helps this country make more goods, offer more jobs; defend itself, grow stronger, and lets you and me live better.

All this—and then too, through life insurance, you're building security for yourself and your family—on your own. You're not depending on somebody else to do it for you.

Marion Plant Party Held

Marion Industries Supervisors Meet

The second annual supervisors party of Marion Industries, Division of Motor Products C., was held Friday at the Marion Country Club.

A total of 75 persons attended the party. They included supervisory personnel from the Marion plant and 15 company officials from Detroit.

Among the guests from Detroit were A. L. Lott, chairman of the board of directors of the Motor Products Corp., Leo J. Jacques, president, and D. J. Bracken, vice president and general manager of the company.

Hosts were J. W. Dean Jr., manager of the Marion plant, and R. E. Hyams, assistant factory manager. Following a dinner TV and radio personalities were presented for entertainment.

Robert W. Dugger of Detroit, director of industrial relations for Motor Products Corp., was toastmaster.

PUP IS MOM TO GOSLING. Tallulah, year-old cocker spaniel, cuddles close to her adopted four-day-old gosling, at the home of Miss Charlotte Essman in Tyler, Texas. The sad-eyed pup recently mothered another gosling, but the first feathered child was smothered when the pup attempted to protect it from other dogs. Miss Essman says Tallulah got her name because she has been so unusual since birth.

Forest Couple To Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fernbaugh of near Forest will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with open house at their home in Jackson Twp., Wyandot Co., Sunday afternoon. They will receive their friends from 2 to 5 o'clock.

As Miss Nora Rebecca Parker, the bride of 50 years ago became Mrs. Ross Fernbaugh on May 6, 1902. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. George Parker of near LaRue. Mr. Fernbaugh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fernbaugh of Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Fernbaugh, who have lived in their present home since their marriage, have two children, Ralph P. Fernbaugh of Forest and Mrs. Donald Weaver of near Forest. They have four grandsons, Ross, David, Marion and Sammy Weaver.

Mr. Fernbaugh recently retired from active farming. Both he and his wife are affiliated with the First Church of God at Wharton, where the former served as choir director for many years. Both belong to the Hancock County Choral Society and Mr. Fernbaugh has been associated with the Sylvian Male Quartet being the high tenor. Mrs. Fernbaugh taught in the Marion County Schools before her marriage.

Plan Dinner for New Members of Church

Plans for a dinner to entertain new members of Epworth Methodist Church were discussed when a committee of 18 from the group met with the pastor, Dr. V. E. Busler, Wednesday night at the church study. The event, honoring those taken into church membership in 1951 and 1952, will be held May 7 in the basement dining room of the church. A program is being arranged.

Heading the committees are Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Lyon, general chairmen, with Mrs. Gerald Strauss as receptionist, Joseph Bearden, program chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer F. Houghton, dining room chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Campbell, kitchen chairman; Mrs. Charles King, calling chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gallatin, publicity chairmen.

LOSES COURT PLEA. Once known as Hitler's favorite film actress, Leni Riefenstahl, 45, is shown as she appeared before a denazification court in West Berlin. She stated that she sought the dictator's acquaintance in 1932 because she saw in him a rising political figure; but added, however, that their relations were artistic rather than political. The Berlin court confirmed the findings of a West German court which had earlier classified her as a "follower" of the Nazi Party.

CIRCLE HAS LUNCHEON

Members of Circle 2 of the WSCS of Epworth Methodist Church were entertained at a 1:30 o'clock luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Fred Cory Sr. of 840 S. Prospect St. Mrs. Hugo Malo, leader, presided for the business session which followed. Devotions, conducted by Mrs. Roy Jacoby with Mrs. L. S. Irey assisting, were preceded by a piano selection, "Trust and Obey," by Mrs. R. C. Alexander. Twenty members responded to roll call, 64 sick calls were reported made, and the sum of $11 was reported turned in for a Lenten offering. The program included a piano solo by Mrs. Alexander, a reading by Mrs. Ward Williams, a story read by Mrs. J. F. Ohmansiek, a reading by Mrs. C. R. Clevenger, and a reading and prayer by Mrs. F. W. Williams. A gift was presented to Mrs. James Field and the meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

File $9,000 Suit In Bucyrus Accident

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—A $9,000 action for money has been filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Mrs. Elvina Brown, Galion, against Ivan S. Miller, Bucyrus, as a result of a collision between cars driven by the two parties, in Bucyrus on Feb. 13, 1951.

Mrs. Brown alleges that Miller drove his car through a red light into the side of her automobile. She claims she was thrown about inside the car, fell out onto the street and struck her head against the car door.

In addition to crashing a red light, the defendant is charged with traveling in excess of 40 miles an hour and with failure to yield the right of way.

Annual Reports Made at County WCTU Institute

Annual reports were given by secretaries and department directors at the Marion County WCTU Institute and Workshop held Friday in the Oakland EUB Church. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon in the parish house.

Mrs. C. A. Thomas, county president, presided for the opening session and devotions were by Rev. F. E. Kline, pastor of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church. Five of the six unions in the county were represented. One LTL was organized and several white ribbon recruits enrolled during the year, it was announced. Announcement was made of the appointment of Mrs. Martha Vermillion as youth temperance counselor.

Mrs. L. E. Stanley, first vice president, was in charge of the afternoon session which opened with devotions by Rev. H. V. Falor, pastor of the hostess church. Rev. Falor also played two numbers on a musical saw accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Falor. Mrs. Coral Jobe conducted the white ribbon recruit ceremony for Ronald Green. Music for the ceremony was by Mrs. Belle Donaugh.

L. Ruhlman, 92, sang "The Christian and the Brewer," and also gave a talk. Mrs. Perry Strine gave a reading, "The Chicken Story" and a talk on the work of the WCTU was given by Mrs. Thomas, county president.

Reports show there are 452 WCTU members in the county. A membership drive will be conducted with a goal of 137 new members by July 1. A rummage sale was planned for May.

Members of Frances Willard Union with the largest representation present, received an award of the WCTU publication, "Union Signal," which they presented to Rev. Norman Renn, pastor of Fite Memorial Baptist Church, who with Mrs. Renn and their family, were guests.

Mt. Gilead Council Considers Water System Problems

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—A representative of the Burgress and Nypple Engineering firm of Columbus met with the Mt. Gilead village council at their regular meeting this week to discuss the village's water works system.

The village is planning to hire a firm to draw up plans for the new water softening plant and waterworks. The village has been ordered by the state fire marshal to repair the roof, doors and wiring and to install fire extinguishers and remove rubbish from the stage at Levering Hll. The order followed an inspection of the hall April 9 of this year. State Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan made the report in a letter. Council has 30 days to comply with the order.

Council approved a budget of $2,500 for the municipal swimming pool for the coming year. The budget is for a pool director, recreational director, qualified guards and a cashier.

Sid Tennant, chairman of the recreation board, explained the budget and the plans for the recreation center for the coming year. Gale Weller and William Wolfinger have resigned from the recreation board and Robert Gerhardt has been appointed to the board.

A motion was passed for the street commissioner, Harless Bending, to meet with representatives of the state highway department as soon as possible to find the best way to settle dust on South Main St. Council members called the attention of parents of children with bicycles to the state law requiring vehicles to be lighted or marked when in operation an hour after sunset until an hour before sunrise.

KOYLON TORTURE TEST BOOMERANGS!

Last Friday . . .

What was intended to be an instructive, educational, dramatized, scientific test of Koylon Foam Mattress really proved itself, although the mechanical operation of the Huber 10-ton road roller had to be suspended!

FRIDAY, APRIL 25th

Mattress Test Stopped — Too Hard on Street

A "torture test" designed to prove the durability of a mattress was discontinued this morning because E. Church St. was not quite up to the ordeal.

The demonstration, arranged by Schaffner's Furniture Co., was to be conducted all day today on E. Church St. near the corner of S. Main. A mattress was placed in the street near the curb and a 10-ton, three-wheel road roller was provided to roll back and forth over it.

The test started on schedule at 9:30 a.m., but after approximately 70 trips across the mattress, signs of wear were observed on the street. A crack spread between bricks for about eight feet, and several bricks were shaved above or below their natural level. The test was halted to avoid further damage to the street.

The mattress? It came through OK, according to the furniture store.

So The Road Bed Broke!

Mattress Company's Test So Good They Have To Stop.

A rubber company thought they had a good promotion scheme to test their new mattress. They laid it out on a downtown street and ran a 10-ton road roller over it in a "torture test."

All went well for 70 trips. Then an eight-foot crack appeared in the brick street and the test was cancelled.

Company officials said the mattress emerged undamaged.

UPPER SANDUSKY — John M. Schmidt, 81, retired grocer and lifetime resident of Upper Sandusky, died at 12:15 a.m. Saturday in Wyandot Memorial Hospital Friday.

Born Dec. 20, 1870 in Upper Sandusky, Schmidt was a son of Marx and Christina Krebs Schmidt. He married Mary Still Jan. 17, 1899. She died June 10, 1949.

Surviving are three daughters, Loretta, wife of Howard M. Walton of Upper Sandusky; Frieda, wife of Edward Bolish of Upper Sandusky and Mrs. Helen Reamsynder at home. Also surviving are three grandchildren, Mrs. Rachel Goers of Ft. Wayne, Ind. and Joseph and Christina Bolish of Upper Sandusky.

In the grocery business here for more than 30 years before his retirement, Schmidt served 16 years as a member of the Upper Sandusky Board of Education and was president of the board for eight years. He was a member of the St. Paul Lutheran Church here.

A prayer service will be at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Bringman & Co. Funeral Home, after which the body will be taken to St. Paul Lutheran Church to lie in state until time for services at 2:30 the Rev F. LeRoy Sarver, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be made in Old Mission Cemetery.

SUES FOR FALSE ARREST. Miss Edith Church (above), 42-year-old Maumee, O., music teacher, is suing a former Monroe County, Mich., prosecutor, the sheriff, and 11 deputies and state troopers for false arrest. Miss Church, a former president of the American Sun Bathing Association, was among 17 members of the Toledo branch of the association arrested in a raid in August, 1948. Miss Church claims the raid was conducted without a warrant and cost her a $4,000-a-year public school teaching job, and caused her great embarrassment and humiliation.

Mrs. Charles Mochel

GALION—Mrs. Della M. Mochel, 78, lifelong resident of Galion, died Sunday at 3:10 a.m. in Galion City Hospital where she was admitted Saturday. She had been ill for nine hours suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

Born in Galion June 9, 1873, Mrs. Mochel was the daughter of Peter and Sophia Metzger Keifer. She was married June 30, 1897 at Bucyrus to Charles B. Mochel who died Sept. 10, 1923.

Surviving are twin sons: Donald W. Mochel and Clifford G. Mochel, both of Galion; one granddaughter, Brenda Ann Mochel of Galion. Two brothers, Samuel D. and William P. Keifer, preceded her in death. Mrs. Mochel belonged to First Lutheran Church.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the Snyder funeral home where friends may call after 7 p.m. tonight. Rev. Herbert S. Garnes Jr., pastor of First Lutheran Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Alfred G. Jamieson

SYCAMORE — Alfred Glen Jamieson, 71, retired carpenter of Sycamore, died at 5:30 p.m. Saturday in his home. He was ill five years.

Born Sept. 14, 1880, in Wyandot County, he was a son of John and Harriet Mulholland Jamieson. Dec. 25, 1902, he married Leah Walton. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, and children, Mrs. Marjorie Lamb of Sycamore and Walton Jamieson of Cleveland, and a brother, Earl Jamieson of McCutchenville. Two brothers and a sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Moore's Funeral Home. The Rev. A. M. Bosler will officiate. Burial will be in Pleasant Ridge Cemetery west of Sycamore.

The Cost Is Easily Determined
It has been our experience that most people are in doubt as to how the cost of the funeral service is determined. This is easily answered; at least, it is easily answered when we are called to serve.
The price is determined by the cost of the casket selected by the family. In our display room, each casket is plainly marked with the price of the complete service. The family can, in this way, make their choice, knowing at all times what the complete cost will be.

Hurlers Sharpen Tigers' Claws, Blank Cleveland Twice

Houtteman, Gray Put Bengals on Win Trail

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bosom buddies Art Houtteman and Ted Gray have put the Detroit Tigers back on the right track.

The Tigers still were on the fringe of last place in the American League today but the good old folks of Detroit don't expect them to hover in that vicinity long.

Detroit's resurgence began behind closed doors in the visitors' dressing room at Chicago's Comiskey Park Wednesday.

The Tigers, smarting from eight straight defeats, were reported to be at odds with Manager Red Rolfe.

Fred Hutchinson, veteran pitcher and player representative, called the team together for a conference and chased Rolfe out of the room. The result was a rousing vote of confidence for the skipper.

Houtteman and Gray have demonstrated emphatically that the Tigers meant what they said.

Art launched the comeback drive Saturday with a spectacular 13-0, one-hit victory over the Cleveland Indians. Gray followed his roommate's gem with a 1-0 six-hit triumph over the tough Tribe Sunday.

Ironically, Cleveland's Harry Simpson was the "villian" and "goat" in the two games.

Spoils No-Hitter

Simpson spoiled Houtteman's bid for fame at the eleventh hour. The Indians outfielder singled with two out in the ninth inning to smash the no-hit bid.

Sunday, a first-inning error by Simpson led to the lone run of the game.

Pat Mullin singled with two out in the first inning against Mike Garcia. Vic Wertz followed with a drive to center. Simpson tried to pick it up on the bounce in order to cut Mullin down at third but the ball slipped behind him and Mullin scored.

The Indians have a day off today according to the schedule. But they won't get much time to lick their wounds.

Manager Al Lopez is taking them down to the Stadium to whet up their batting eyes for their initial eastern trip which opens Tuesday night in Philadelphia.

Bob Feller, who has won one and lost one, will face the Athletics in the opener of the trip that includes two games in Philadelphia, three in Washington, two in Boston and three in (shudder) Yankee Stadium. The Indians dropped six straight on the first eastern excursion last year, and then won the last three.

In Sunday's game at Detroit, the Tribe got a triple, two doubles and five walks and still couldn't score a run off Southpaw Gray. The shutout was the third for Cleveland in its last four games.

11 Stranded

The Indians had at least one man on base in every inning but the ninth, but left 11 runners stranded, including three at third base. Bob Avila got that far twice with two out—in the third on his triple and in the seventh on his double and a wild pitch.

Avila's double was a blast to left field that missed being a homer by inches. It hit near the top of the screen and bounced back into the playing field.

Detroit loaded the bases in the eighth, but Mike Garcia forced Johnny Lipon to ground to Shortstop Ray Boone and Boone forced Joe Ginsberg at second.

It was Garcia's second defeat against one victory. The Tigers rapped him for 10 hits, while Gray gave up only six.

Rain curtailed activity in both leagues. In the American League, rain washed out a doubleheader between the Athletics and Boston Red Sox and a single game between New York and Washington. In the National League, a doubleheader between Boston and Philadelphia and a single game between Brooklyn and New York were postponed.

The Chicago White Sox cooled off the St. Louis Browns in the only other action in the American League. The White Sox tripped the Browns, 7-6, in 14-innings in the opener of a doubleheader. The Sox led, 3-1, in the second game which was called after five innings because of darkness. The game will be completed in Chicago July 3.

Robinson Homers

Minnie Minoso singled home Nelson Fox with Chicago's winning run in the opener. Ed Robinson homered with one on in the ninth for Chicago to send the game into overtime. Harry Dorish permitted only one hit over the last five innings and gained credit for his first victory.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, highly publicized Cardinal rookie, held the Cubs to three hits in seven innings but blew up in the eighth and yielded four runs. Frank Baumholtz, the leagues' top batter, climaxed the rally with a three-run double. Joe Hatten was the winner.

Urges Coaches To List Entries In Special Relay

Entries for the special Marion County 880-yard relays at the Harding Invitational Meet Friday night are slow coming in, Harding coach, Ken Somerlot said today.

The special relay has been set for track teams from the county schools and will be run during the regular meet, Somerlot said several county track coaches had given their verbal agreement to compete but formal entries have not been presented.

County coaches planning to enter should call Somerlot at Harding High School or at his home at 2-5701. A special trophy will be presented to the winning team.

TRYOUTS POSTPONED

Little League Baseball commissioners today announced the scheduled tryout sessions for Thursday night at 5 p.m. had been postponed until 3:30 p.m. Saturday. The 11-year-old American Leaguers from the western section of Marion were scheduled to undergo tests at that time but a Harding High School baseball game is scheduled for Thursday at the Lincoln Park diamond.

LOOK OUT BELOW: The University of Missouri's Bob Gordon looks like he's due to collect a mouthful of sawdust as he clears the high jump bar in a tuck position. Gordon won the high jump event at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Ia., with a leap of 6 feet, 6 inches.

Derby Trial Set Tuesday

Final Warmup For Saturday's Running

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — They are going to sift some chaff from the wheat at Churchill Downs Tuesday. Before nightfall the lineup for the $100,000 added Kentucky Derby should be fairly well in hand.

The sifting will come in the Derby Trial, a mile prep for the big mile and one-quarter classic for three-year olds on Saturday.

The Trial furnishes some of the top flight Derby hopefuls with their final tightener before facing the starting barrier at 4:30 p.m., (EST) before some 100,000 people.

For others it will give a chance to prove their right to run in America's most famous horse race.

The Trial is expected to draw a field of ten or so.

Hill Gail, pride of the Calumet Farm, heads the list. He may go to the post in the Derby the favorite to take down the winner's share of the purse.

Among the more high rated Derby candidates expected to oppose the Calumet Flash Tuesday are the unpredictable Cousin from the barns of Alfred Vanderbilt and Sub Fleet of Charles T. Fisher's Dixiana farm.

Trainer Sylvester Veitch also may send out C. V. Whitney's Cold Command, recent conqueror of Hill Gail in a seven-furlong test at Keeneland.

LEADS WOMEN KEGLERS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Morris Plan of Indianapolis, paced by Pat Dryer with 595, totaled 2,731 Sunday night to take over first place in the Class A team division of the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament. Miss Dryer had one game of 256.

U.S. Runners Considered Top Olympic Threat

DES MOINES (AP)—Uncle Sam is going to have one of his finest Olympic track and field teams at Helsinki, Finland this summer.

That's the word from Bill Easton and Tommy Deckard, directors of two of America's top track classics—the Kansas and Drake Games.

They agreed that Uncle Sam's representatives will be "particularly tough in the dashes, middle distances and distances."

Easton, whose Kansas athletes established two American records and two Drake marks here last Friday and Saturday, thinks three of his lads may make the American team.

He listed West Santee, the great miler, for the 1,500 meters; Herb Semper for the 5,000 meters and Bob Devinney for the 400 meter hurdles.

Easton also mentioned 100-yard dash winner James Golliday, Northwestern sophomore, and Dick Coleman of Illinois, first in the pole vault. Deckard believes Golliday will be America's No. 1 dash man.

Deckard and Easton gave their highest praise to Santee, who anchored the Jayhawks to an American mark of 17:15.9 in the four-mile relay and a Drake record of 10:013 8 in the distance medley. Unofficially, Santee was clocked at 4:07.4 and 4:07.5 for his anchor miles.

"Lucky" Shoes Help Stranahan To Third Title

By KEN ALYTA

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Frank Stranahan is not superstitious, but the Toledo golfer thinks that a pair of red, white and blue shoes may have helped him win the North and South Amateur Tournament for the third time.

After Stranahan had polished off Frank Strafaci, Flushing, N. Y., 8 and 7, in the 36-hole finals on Saturday, he explained the origin of the patriotic pumps he'd won during the week. The shoes made especially for the U. S. Ryder Cup team in its matches here with the British last fall, were given him by Ryder Cupper Jackie Burke, Texas professional, after the two had played in a recent exhibition.

"The first day I wore them I shot a 67," said Frank. The "lucky" shoes didn't hamper him in the tournament. In closing out Strafaci on the 11th hole of the afternoon round, he was four under par for 29 holes.

He put on one of the most amazing long putting exhibitions seen in 52 years of North and South history. Sixty, 50 and 20-foot putts all helped him building up his big margin, largest for a finals in 10 years. The day before, in beating Mal Galletta, Stranahan rang the bell with three putts of from 30 to 45 feet.

His sharp form reversal followed some so-so play in earlier rounds when he had to hustle at the way to put out highly-regarded oppisition. But the two-time British Amateur Champion was near his peak in the last two rounds.

Patty Berg Holds Lead In Women's PGA Open

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Record-smasher Patty Berg held a three-stroke lead today as the country's crack women golf professionals teed off in the final round of the $3,000 54-hole Richmond Ladies PGA Open.

Popular Miss Berg had a two-day total of 138. Treading on her heels was Betty Jameson of San Antonio with 141. They were practically in front by themselves. Next closest, at 148, were two Florida entries—Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Tampa and Peggy Kirk of Ponta Verda.

Miss Berg knocked old man par cockeyed to set a woman's world record 64 in the first round. The former woman's record was 66, held jointly by Mrs. Zaharias, Opal S. Hill of Kansas City and Grace Lenczik of Newington, Conn.

LATE STARTERS

CINCINNATI (AP) — Branch Rickey's Pittsburgh Pirates find themselves up a tree today. The Bucs, with the season only two weeks old, are 7½ games behind the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. Just a year ago today they were only one game off the pace.

Reds Ignore Predictions, Climb To Second Place

CINCINNATI (AP)—Could it be that the Cincinnati Reds didn't read the pre-season predictions on the 1952 National League finish?

The experts agreed rather generally on a sixth place finish for the Redlegs and of course the Rhinelanders still could finish down that far — or even worse. But that isn't where you'll find them in the standing today.

They are second—only a half game out of first.

A twin victory by scores of 8 to 2 and 1 to 0 over the reeling Pittsburgh Pirates Sunday boosted the Reds a half game ahead of the Chicago Cubs. The Pirates now have lost nine straight.

The big test is coming up, however. Cincinnati's record of eight won and three lost has been recorded against Pittsburgh, Chicago and St. Louis and the tough eastern half of the circuit will begin moving in here Tuesday.

Real Test

Nine games against New York, Boston, Brooklyn, and Philadelphia ought to give an early tip on whether the showing thus far has been only a flash in the pan or whether it's "the McCoy."

Cincinnati's surprising early showing also has been achieved without any pitching help from Ewell Blackwell. The tall right-hander has lost both of his starts.

Ken Raffensberger, however, has chalked up three straight triumphs and Herman Wehmeier and Frank Hiller each have two and Harry Perkowski one.

Winner of seven of their last eight starts, the Redlegs now have marked up five straight triumphs at home since losing their season opener. They have won three and lost two on the road.

Sunday's opening game against the Pirates was a breeze for Raffenberger after Cincinnati exploded for six runs in the third inning but the nightcap was won the hard way. It wasn't until the last of the ninth that the home boys were able to push over the run which gave Hiller his victory over Howie Pollet.

Johnny Wyrostek's three-run triple was the biggest blow in the opening game although Andy Seminick came within inches of getting a grand slam home run a few minutes later. Seminick's drive hit the top of the center field wall and bounced back with such force that the husky backstop got only a single on the blow.

The Pollet-Hiller duel was broken up when Bob Borkowski raced home on Roy McMillan's fly in the ninth. Borkowski had reached third when the Pirates threw out Ted Kluszewski at home. Kluszewski tried to score from first when Borkowski's single got through Ralph Kiner. As the play was being made the plate, Borkowski kept right on running to get into position to score on the fly.

Richwood Places 6th in OWU Meet

RICHWOOD — The Richwood High School track squad finished seventh in the Class B competition Saturday in the annual Ohio Wesleyan Relays.

The Richwood thinclads grabbed first place in the half-mile relay defeating the winning Oberlin runners and was barely edged out in the quarter-mile relay by the same team. The Tigers received six points for the first and four for the second. They added a single point when their discus men, Don McDaniel, Roger Travis and Larry Greenwood, finished fifth.

Members of both relay teams were Duane Perkins, Dick Hosey, John Blue and Dick Griffiths. The Tiger team will travel to Worthington Tuesday night for a triangular meet with Worthington and Linden-McKinley of Columbus.

TRACK OPENS

CLEVELAND (AP) — About 1-000 horses from eight states will be on hand for the opening of Cranwood Park's 25-day running race meet Saturday afternoon Track officials expect even heavier betting than last year when wagering increased 120 per cent and set a record $937 670 on the last day of Cranwood's fall meeting Oct 20

LACK OF HITS HURTS

DETROIT (AP)—The Cleveland Indians aren't whooping it up today When the Tribe bowed to the southpaw slants of Detroit's Ted Gray 1-0 Sunday it marked the third time in four games they had been shut out During that time, the Indians have made only 17 hits in 119 times at bat for a 143 average while their big gun, Luke Easter, has been held hitless

Brandeis University's newly elected co-captains for the football and basketball teams are, in each case the smallest players on their squads

Sugar Ray Takes Paris Over Maxim

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — There never was much doubt that Sugar Ray Robinson did better than most when they were handing out brains to the prize fighters Now it's official

The middleweight champ had his choice of visiting Paris in the spring or staying here and getting himself cuffed around by Joey Maxim, the rugged ruler of the cruiser-weights He chose Paris

It would have made a great payday for everybody, probably above $100 000 for each fighter There is no ring attraction in sight to match it But Robinson doesn't need the money, and he was smart enough to realize the dice were loaded Maxim packing a 15-pound weight advantage, might have been even money to slip Sugar the first knockout of his great career

The man to pity is Doc Kearns, who in the twilight of a colorful career brought Maxim out of a studied mediocrity, guided him to the title and within reaching distance of a golden harvest It would have been a fair treat to watch Jack Dempsey's old pilot playing with that kind of money again

WARREN GILES, THE NEW president of the National League, should have been given a years cooling-out period between handing in his resignation as president of the Cincinnati Reds and assuming his present post

Under the Talbot plan, the popular and extremely able executive would have been required to sit through a full schedule of games with nothing to do for his salary except munch peanuts and learn to admire umpires for the truly fine job they turn in under trying conditions

It would have been a tough course for a man who had watched the knights in blue rob his Reds all those years, but a man of Giles' caliber would have mastered it, and would not, for example, have announced that he had plastered a heavy fine on Umpire Scotty Robb for shoving inoffensive little Eddie Stanky

IT SEEMED DIFFICULT the other day to get Manager Bucky Harris of Washington interested in talking about his own ball club He said yes, absently, that a couple of his Cuban pitchers were doing very well He confessed after a brief pause, that he had a pretty fair first team But his mind didn't seem to be in it, and he kept staring out where the Yankees were holding infield drill

"Look at that Phil Rizzuto," Bucky finally exploded Isn't that boy something"

It would take several thousand words to sum up everything the pilot of the Senators conveyed so briefly about the little shortstopping genius of the world champions Rival managers would name the Scooter the most valuable player in the league without a dissenting vote

Columbus Belted Twice by Toledo

By The Associated Press

League - leading Milwaukee's eight game winning streak was shattered Sunday and Louisville swept a doubleheader to move into second place only ½ game behind

Kansas City famed Milwaukee—American Association champion—in a single game 9-5 with at 12 hit attack and the relief hurling of Rex Jones He shut out the Brews in the last three innings Milwaukee collected 13 blows off Ernie Nevel and Jones but failed to bunch them effectively

The Blues broke a 4-4 tie with a three-run fifth inning as Bill Skowron smash a 400-foot homer and Nevel slashed a triple with two mates aboard

Louisville walloped Indianapolis 10-1 and edged out the nightcap 3-2

Toledo took a pair from Columbus, 6-3 and 4-2, to fabricate a four-game victory string, Hank Behrman went all the way in the first and spaced eight hits as the Mud Hens belted Floyd Melhiere for 10 blows and five runs in six innings.

Ernie Bickhause won the nightcap with a seven-hitter and no walks, Toledo's Babe Barna bagged three homers for the two games

St Paul shaded Minneapolis in a single engagement 7-6

Joe Chow an engineering student from Moose Jaw Sask in Canada, is the first three-letter winner in Denver University's hockey history

Junior Should Help

CHICAGO (AP) — Child psychologists overwhelmingly agree that little Johnnie should help with the dishes.

This depressing fact for the younger set comes to light as the result of a nationwide survey by the parent's consultation service on the Book House for Children. Eighty-eight per cent of the 388 psychologists quizzed said little boys should be expected to do simple domestic chores

The only ray of hope lay in a small number of psychologists who thought more masculine chores should be assigned, particularly where there was a little sister around to help with the dishes.

Ballerinas Get Tax Cut

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's ballerinas did a most unhappy dance when the government clamped a 100 per cent tax on all entertainment.

They got their point over to the parliament by toe dancing in corridors, collaring influential lawmakers, and cooing their argument into flattered old ears.

The argument: the tax put them in the same class with prosperous strip-tease artists. While customers swallowed the tax and flocked to the strip-teasers, they were staying away from the ballet in droves.

The parliament reacted by cutting the tax on the ballet to 40 per cent. Now Japan's opera singers are fit to be tied. The tax reduction did not apply to them.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (UP)—Some sharp declines in oil shares stood out in a narrowly irregular stock market early today. Trading was light.

Losses in the oils extended to 1¾ points in Amerada, which dropped to 214¼. Atlantic Refining was ¾ lower at 82½.

Northern Pacific, better known recently as an oil than a rail stock, fell 3¾ point to 75⅞. Other rail shares moved fractionally either way.

Steel shares were little changed. Bethlehem and Republic both held unchanged and U.S. Steel dipped ⅛ to 38. Motors, too, did little. Chrysler improved ⅛ to 75⅝. General Motors held at 54½.

Grated cheddar cheese mixed with mayonnaise makes a good filling for french-toasted sandwiches. Strips of pimiento, chopped green olives, or broken walnut or pecan meats may be added to the cheese if desired. Serve the sandwiches with a mixed green salad and tea or coffee for a delicious lunch.

Last Lamb Pool Held

The last pool of the season was held at the Ashley Stock Yards Thursday by the Delaware-Morrow-Marion Sheep Improvement Committee.

A total of 16 pools have been held since August, 1951, and 250 lambs were consigned to the pool on Thursday. All lambs were clipped and the total weighed 20,410 pounds. Twenty-six were double blue weighing 2,325 pounds and sold for $28.75; 73 graded blue weighing 5,545 pounds and sold for $27.50; 79 graded red weighing 6,435 and sold for $26.-50; 39 graded yellow weighing 2,940 and sold for $25.25.

This was the 16th pool and there were 1,035 more sheep and lambs handled during the season than the past 1950-51 year.

The annual meeting and banquet is Tuesday evening at Elm Valley High School at Ashley at 7:30. Reservations are to be made by Saturday to Henry Brandes, Ashley.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the BOARD OF EDUCATION OF HE GREEN CAMP LOCAL SCHOOL DISTRICT at its office at GREEN CAMP, OHIO, until 12 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on May 5th, 1952, and opened at an evening meeting on the same day by the Clerk of the Board, for furnishing all materials and performing all labor for the construction of ELEMENTARY SCHOOL BUILDING, GREEN CAMP LOCAL SCHOOL DISTRICT, GREEN CAMP, OHIO.

Proposal shall be in accordance with drawings and specifications prepared by SIMS, CORNELIUS & SCHOOLEY, Architects and Engineers, 2301 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Copies of drawings, specifications and proposal blanks, together with any further information desired may be obtained from the office of said Architects.

Bidders are required to use the printed forms which will be furnished upon application to the Architects. Labor and materials shall be separately stated in the bid, with the price thereof.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested therein, and shall be accompanied by a bid bond or a certified check upon a solvent bank, payable to the order of the Treasurer of said Board of Education, in the sum of 20% of the amount of the bid and conditioned that if the bid be accepted a contract will be entered into and the performance of it properly secured by a satisfactory surety company's bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price. Should any bid be rejected, such check will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted, such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract. Otherwise the same will be retained by the Board if such condition is not fulfilled.

Bids shall be sealed and addressed to G. W. Sorreles, Clerk of the Board of Education, Green Camp, Local School District, Green Camp, Ohio, and shall be marked with the name of the bidder and filed with the Clerk of said Board of Education by the time above mentioned.

The Board of Education reserves the right to withhold the awarding of any contracts for a period of 30 days from the opening of bids.

Said Board of Education reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Reform School Inmates Get Right To Smoke

FANKFORT Ky (UP) - The Kentucky general assembly has voted to permit youthful inmates at state house of reform to smoke regardless of age

The legislature repealed an old law which outlawed all smoking at the state institution at the request of welfare officials. The officials explained that the inmates have been "slipping around" and smoking in hide-outs throughout the reformatory, creating fire hazards

They said they preferred to let the boys smoke in supervised recreation rooms rather than run the risk of fire

There is no place in England more than 18 miles from a railway line, says the National Geographic Society
